What's Teen Advisory Group? (TAG)

TAG members will be Banks Public Library teen volunteers. Working as a group, you will be involved in planning and implementing some of the events for teens and elementary aged children at the library.
You will also have the opportunity to volunteer where needed in the library, library garden, or seed library on Teen Service Saturdays.
This is an excellent opportunity to build on your leadership skills, and to earn steady volunteer hours.

As you plan your leadership or service project, the library is here to support you at every stage of the project lifecycle. Let's explore how we can help make your project a success!

We will meet once a month. As volunteer applications are returned, and availability is known, we will narrow down a day of the week that works for the majority.

Please print and fill out the City of Banks Teen Volunteer Application form (note that you are interested in TAG), and return it to the Banks Library. We have applications at that library as well.

If you have further questions, please don't hesitate to contact me.
