Agreement between the Labour Party, Green Party and Radical Socialists

Treasury

- 25% of monthly basic income for 16-17 year olds placed in a 'personal independence fund' which can be accessed either on their 18th birthday or when they start living independently, whichever is earlier in order to assist with costs of moving out etc.
- Increase HMRC funding to prevent reliance on accountancy firms
- Get rid of the female hygiene tax
- Increase in HMRC funding to combat tax evasion and initiative for international tax evasion hunting
- Reorganisation of public services to move away from NPM models

Home

- Replace the IPCC with an independent body, free from police influence as much as possible.
- Abolish Police and Crime Commissioners.
- Remove the involvement of any private contractors in policing, justice and rehabilitation.
- Commit to net neutrality.

Foreign

- Protection of European Free Movement
- Invocation of A50 within one or two months
- Protection of EU workers' rights and environmental protections.
- Target an exception to free movement of services under EEA in negotiations
- Target exceptions within free movement of labour to preserve labour rights and prevent dumping under EEA in negotiations

Justice

- Free vote on separation of marriage and state
- Government use and promotion of victimisation reports
- Reform of pre-trial detention, only detaining suspects who have committed violent crimes or meet other requirements
- Pass the Protest Policing bill
- Remove or lower incarceration rates for several crimes under review by Justice sec

Communities, Local Government and Rural Affairs

- Continue the work of the cross-party federalisation committee to produce a bill with multi-partisan support across the widest possible spectrum of the house.
- Develop and implement a comprehensive strategy to tackle rural poverty and social isolation.

Business, Industry, and Labour

- Enforce a 35 hour working week with statutory overtime afterwards.
- Begin the process of deprivatisation of primary industry
- Expand legislation so that when a business enters insolvency or comes up for sale, right of first refusal in the purchase of any majority stakes will be granted to the company's workforce, and right of second refusal will be given to any community interest group (See B114)
- Ensure that anti-discrimination laws protect the rights of workers from discrimination based on if they wish to form a cooperative or not.
- Support legislation ensuring that men and women are legally required to be paid equally for comparable work.
- Compulsion for medium-larger companies to publicise wage stats
- A financial participation scheme via collectively held funds integrated into corporate tax
- Subsidies to strike funds and/or subsidies to union membership
- Workplace-level (works council) and board-level codetermination.
- Fine companies 5% of their profits for paying under the minimum wage
- Support partial exceptions to free movement of services under EEA in negotiations
- Develop legislation concerning post-Brexit domestic regulation of posted labour to preserve rights and prevent dumping.
- Pilot 6H-shift programme

International Development and Trade

- Seek to build coalitions within the WTO to reorient the organisation towards more sustainable trade and development
- EU-style dumping laws in the UK to replace the provisions in the Customs Union

Health and Food

- Launch a Public Health Campaign on the safety of entomophagy, alongside governmental regulations on the sale and distribution of insects
- Keep the NHS in public hands and protect it from privatisation
- Increase the affordability and accessibility of everyone to healthy junk food alternatives to attempt to help tackle obesity

- Implement whistleblower protection for doctors to match the protections already granted to other health care professionals.
- Aim to remove barriers for professionals in the NHS, such as clearer structuring of parental leave, more flexible part time working, and where possible on-site child care facilities at a subsidised rate for staff.
- Reform staffing rotas to reflect that medical professionals need adequate rest between shifts.

Animal Welfare, Agriculture, and Environment

- A means-tested National Veterinary Service in part funded by increased VAT on non-shelter/rescue animals
- Protect and strengthen of European environmental protection laws and legislation
- Withdrawal of all military presence within National Parks and an increase in land earmarked for wildlife reserves
- Increase of UK forest area to 25%, by increase of funding to forestry commission and introduction of other financial incentives
- Expand the National Wildlife Crime Unit to deal with domestic animal abuse, ensuring appropriately trained officers are available to deal with such issues.
- No further airport expansion
- Force companies and individuals to clean up brownfield land, or have it purchased by local authorities

Education

- Integrate academies and free schools into local authorities
- Take away charitable status from private schools
- Commit to data sovereignty in the United Kingdom
- Allow no new grammar schools and integrate existing ones into the comprehensive system
- Decouple the Church of England and other religious institutions from state schools and teach all major religions equally
- Expand the National Citizen Service to Wales and Scotland
- We will aim to move towards a system in which early years education extends until the age of 6. This will mean that academic learning is not introduced until the age of 6, which is very similar to other more successful education systems.. That does not preclude those who wish to enter their children into school earlier from doing so.
- Complete a comprehensive review the National Curriculum to ensure it is current and fit for purpose.
- End the compulsory requirement for certain subjects at GCSE (or school leaving age) for children with significant SEN or literacy and numeracy issues and reallocate that time to additional SEN and/or literacy and numeracy work.

- Allow no new grammar schools and gradually integrate grammar and secondary modern schools into the comprehensive system.
- Campaign for school leaving qualifications that encourage a broad curriculum that gives equal value to academic, vocational, creative and practical subjects.
- Reform teacher training to ensure that teachers are better trained than ever before in the latest pedagogical techniques.
- Increase the amount of support Newly Qualified Teachers receive during their first year of teaching to improve outcomes for pupils and retain more teachers in the profession.
- Massively reduce the needless paperwork for teachers that serves no purpose other than to appease school inspectors and is a constant factor in fully qualified and expert teachers leaving the profession, which is a tragic waste of skills and resources.
- Ensure that all teachers in state funded education, and academies will be fully qualified teachers.
- Abolish performance related pay for teachers, as it is a system that only serves to ensure that teachers are paid less than they should be.
- Ensure through changes in inspection criteria that school leadership are in touch with the realities of the classrooms within the school and the teaching and learning that goes on within them.

Transportation and Infrastructure

- Cooperation with Energy and Climate Change on planning construction of public transport and electric car charging infrastructure necessary for the petrol car phaseout.
- Development of incentive programmes to encourage investment in, production of, and purchase of electric cars towards the soft 10-year target for the phaseout.
- Begin the process of nationalisation of utilities companies.

Housing

- Reform of council housing regulation through action to make provisions for communal housing
- Forbid long term subleases listed on free market sites like Airbnb.
- Modular Housing pilot programme rolled out in Manchester and Birmingham
- No fee collecting on lease extensions or housing tribunals by residential freeholders.

Climate Change and Energy

- Phasing out sale of petrol cars within 10 years as a soft target based on incentivisation of price reduction in electric vehicles, investment in charging technology and exporting firms, and, towards the end, heavy increases in taxation on petrol cars to make their purchase generally uneconomical.
- Reforming the economy to decrease our reliance on environmentally destructive industries that lack room to grow, while redirecting funding and support to sustainable industries

- Investing in micro generation on council and private properties
- Energy nationalisation and democratisation in line with PSIRU 2016 report

Defence

- Oversee the abolition of Trident, both in terms of legislation and implementation.

Culture, Media, and Sport

- Introduction of a universal ban on horse racing and other 'sports' with a high risk of harm towards animals involved.
- Continue support for cultural initiatives through minority languages.
- Maintain or increase funding for the arts, libraries, archives and museums.
- Implementation of a royal charter backing independent press regulation as per Leveson.

Home Nations

- Continue supporting devolution of powers to Scotland, Northern Ireland, and Wales.
- Develop strategies for regional environmental protection and poverty reduction.
- Oversee the development of an effective working relationship between Westminster and the new powersharing Northern Irish executive.

Equalities

- The Equalities Secretary will be expanded into an interdepartmental role with oversight and scrutiny over actions of other departments and their potential impact on protected minority groups.

Signed,

colossalteuthid, Designated Contact for the Radical Socialist Party.
Djenial, Leader of the Labour Party
DF44, Deputy Principal Speaker for the Green Party