I initially signed up to write for students since I am an accomplished writer author, but I realized writing FOR students does not do them any good, they need to do the research and do their own writing, with help, but NOT done for them.

Is pen.camp reliable?

Pen.Camp Review Pen.Camp Review Thank you guys so much, you did an amazing job, I was so skeptical of this at first but holy cow this is legit, if I am ever in a bind for a paper again I am definitely coming to you guys. Thank you all so much.

Customer Support

Most Pen Camp reviews say that the company has a friendly and helpful support team. I won't argue with them. Support team agents are online 24/7/365 to answer all the questions regarding orders, papers, payments, order delivery, refunds, revisions, and whatnot. Thus, you will get assistance even when you've got to get a response in the middle of the night.

Pen Camp is serious about your security and data protection. That's probably its unique selling point, which makes the platform stand out among other competitors. There is a lot of information on its website to learn how your data is protected.

If you spot some inaccuracies in work, the company promises to carry free revisions within ten days of order delivery. You are also guaranteed to get your money back if you don't get the paper on time. But mind that you won't get the whole sum. The total refund will vary between 20% to 90%, depending on the situation. Check the legal pages for more information.

Pen.Camp Essay Writing Service Review

Pen Camp offers decent quality for an affordable price. They help students with various kinds of academic writing assignments, including essays, term papers, coursework, reviews, presentations, letters of recommendation, theses. The quality of those papers is well above average. The writers pay particular attention to clients' requirements and always deliver papers in time and with 100% original content.

Prices and Fees

This service offers excellent prices for the quality they deliver. I was positively surprised by the standard essay cost of just 11.99 USD per page and a generous first-order discount of 20%. The entire pricing policy is rather flexible – anything above standard essay complexity level they review individually and for degree papers and theses, the final price tag is always well-weighted and balanced.

Guarantees

Pen Camp guarantees customers full anonymity and up to a full money-back. While anonymity insurance works flawlessly (verified by several independent reviewers), the full money-back aspect has a grain of salt to it. The full refund is only possible when a well-substantiated complaint is provided no later than 3 business days since order completion. Then a refund committee has to decide if the complaint is well-justified. In practice, it means that customers never get reimbursed more than 50% of their initial order price.

Service Review and Online reputation

Since Pen Camp is a very popular service, and the one that has been on the market for more than 7 years, they have plenty of user reviews online. This is both good and bad. An inattentive customer and the one in a hurry may not be able to fairly compare the balance of positive and negative reviews (and see that the positive ones outweigh the negative). While those always looking for the maximum details will clearly notice the dominance of positive user reviews over the negative ones.

Customer Support

The customer support service of Pen Camp works as a good mechanism – fast and efficient. There is almost zero waiting time on the phone line (waiting time of 1-3 minutes is nothing compared to other similar services), and the customer service staff is always polite and attentive. A positive surprise was that they speak several languages, including French, German, Spanish and Russian, even though the service only works with English language papers.

Types of Services

Pen Camp can deliver both high school and college/university level papers. In particular, they work with the following papers:

- Essays;
- Coursework;
- Term papers;
- Literature reviews;
- Theses;
- Dissertations;
- CVs, Resumes, and Letters of recommendation;
- Presentations, reports, and other support documentation.

Ordering Process

I strongly advise calling their customer support to place your order, as the online order form may seem a bit complicated and can take time and side research (sometimes phone calls to the support service) to fill in everything correctly. Once you communicate your order nuances, such as the work type, topic, title, deadline, and formatting requirements, the rest is just a matter of waiting and paying for your completed order.

Offers and Extra Services

Besides ordinary writing services mentioned above, Pen Camp also delivers expert-level editing and proofreading services, personal coaching, and optional plagiarism and grammar reports (come at a separate price tag each). Occasionally, on big national holidays and traditional sales events like Black Friday and International Sales Day, they give away coupons with discounts and promo codes.

Pros/Cons

- Above-average paper quality
- Affordable prices
- Excellent customer support service
- A wide range of writing and editing services
- Generous discounts
- Tricky guarantee policies
- A small share of negative user comments (compared to around 80% of positive ones)

Conclusion

Pen Camp is a reliable and worthy service for any academic task. It should definitely be one of your shortlisted services the next time you decide to order a custom academic paper online.
