

Questions:

- What were your expectations of the workshops before attending?
 - How were your expectations met or not met?
 - What have you disliked about the process of being involved in the workshops?
 - What would have made the workshops easier for you to engage with, contribute to and enjoy?
 - What have you liked about the process of being involved in the workshops?
-
- How did you feel about being consulted on the history content and the delivery of the content (rather than only being consulted about accessibility)?
 - How did you find the experience of completing a workshop reflection at the end of each workshop?
-
- Some of the outputs of this research (such as research papers and the PhD thesis) will be aimed at an academic audience. I also plan to create some outputs that are aimed at a more general audience (such as talks, videos, podcasts or blogs). What types of output would you be interested in?
-
- What language do you prefer to use in reference to your disability/disabilities? Disability-first (i.e. disabled person) or person-first (i.e. person with a disability)?
-
- Is there anything that you would like to ask me?