

The Tech Talk Focus Group is for anyone who likes talking about technology and how it's changing around us. Whether you work in IT, you're a student, or you just enjoy keeping up with tech, this group gives you a place to learn, ask questions, and share ideas.

We cover a wide mix of topics that connect back to computers in some way, including:

- Artificial intelligence and new tech trends
- Mobile devices and the everyday tools we all use
- Cybersecurity, vulnerabilities, and zero-day exploits
- Hardware, software, and what's changing in the industry
- Real-world tech experiences and practical insights

Discussions are informal and often driven by members' interests or what's happening in the tech world at the moment. No two sessions are the same.

Join us to connect with others, trade ideas, and learn something new each time. Bring your curiosity and jump into the conversation.
