Easily Confused Words
The following words are easily confused, mostly because they are homophones (HOMO-same; PHONE-sound), or words that SOUND the same or very similar, but have different meanings (and often, different spellings).

TO, TOO, TWO:
to-1. (part of an infinitive) Example- to run
2. (a preposition) Example- to the store

too-1. (adv.) to an excessive degree Example-This is too much!
2. (adv.) also Example-I do, too.

two-(n. or adj.) a number Example-I have two pretzels.

THERE, THEIR, THEY'RE:
there-(adv.) a location Example-There is my pencil!

their (pro. or adj.)-belonging to them Example-Their car is a Honda Accord.

they're (pro. and verb contraction)-contraction of "They are" Example-They're here!