Me: so i be thinking, because thats what i was gonna do, i was gonna say this on my instagram, but i was like “ ha this can get niggaas to listen and stuff so here it is

Oh shit i forgot to introduce myself , and i keep forgetting to do that, shit , and think this is gonna be my thingy just in case i forget \, welcome to Sencnea Village, back again with another episode, if you haven't eaten today, go head and rise up like a weed and go get you something to eat. If you got wealth pods, you can still walk around and whatever, you can can paste it or you can just take out the wealth pods and you can just do what you do but yeah lets get started

I saw this tweet that said light skins are under review.

This nigga called me lightskin and that is one of the things that i am not. I do no subscribe to that talcum x, w.e.b. Defraud agenda. I do subscribe tot hat at all, when i say that, i am not that at all. I do not want to wager in the skin color conversation, whatever, thats afoot the whole dark sin skin, lightskin, bull, well colorsim is not boo rah rah its more less the whole argument about it is boo rah rah, thank you white supremacy for birthing your fucking children. So annoying .

Yea racism has children, and colorism is the daughter of da racism and sexism is the son and you think about in a intersectional approach .

Think of intersectionality as how you view family dynamics, even within your family even if you're an only child .

I'm sorry personally, I don't think i would enjoy being an only child. I feel like I'm too social, I'd go home and be bored because I'd no no one to bother,
The point is as getting to was light skin people, dem lightskins, and the ambiguous blacks because how the hell, I'd would really like to know, how this woman fooled y'all, i would like to know. Ive been around white people my whole life, I've been compared to them motherfuckers, i beat that bitch up, like i know a white woman, i know one when i see one , and I know a nigga when i see a nigga. I took this survey. i think it was by brown or Harvard i dont fucking know one of the ivys that didnt let black peoples in and treat black people like shit because its like 3 niggas in that bitch, comparatively when you put it on a scale of the actual enrollment and the history of the enrollment Prost affirmative aaction.

But anyway i can clock a nigga I dont know how yall got fooled by a Caucasian woman with moose in her hair and burgundy lipstick. Like she aint even try to Rachel Dolezal it for yall

Rachel doelzal was fucking committed, she got the tan, she got the fucking perm and shit, she got the daskit, she got the (jumps because i thought there was a bug.) i thought it was a bug, look at me acting all scared and shit , but like she went all the way, maybe because of these white souls with black skin

The work is called black skins, white masks, by Frantz Fanon, he is from fort. De France, Martinique, i went on the Internet to say that right because i wanted to say that right, which is an island in the Caribbean, i got it on the map, which was colonized by the French so they probably speak French there, its not that far away from Barbados, its in that cool little Archipelago, that's what a chain of islands is called, I learned that from my friend who is from the Bahamas, she was like the Archipelago is a slice what's that and she said the chain of islands, and she was surprised that i didn't know that. Shots out to you laquell, if you listening, i miss you, love you girl,

(Let's get back to the shit i was on. It was published in 1952, ju su noir, i know about that and cultural assimilation. I deadass cannot be a nigga in Paris, cause a nigga is struggling. But oh he died in besthd...damn, but yea he Frantz Omar Fanon was know as Ibrahim, Frantz Fanon, he was a French West Indian from the French colony of Martinique he has worked to become (stumbles on words). I cant be a nigga in England, because i nigga cant speak he has become influential in post-colonial studies and critical theory of Marxism. I've seen his work everywhere , I've seen his shit, especially the black skins in white masks, that only got 222 pages, i can deadass read that in a day and report back what i think ooop i found the whole pdf. I found the whole pdf. Yea imma link the pdf in the thingy but imma get back to my point though

Check that literary ready work out, I haven't read it yet, its only my lit to read but i would like to know how this lady tricked yall because i know some really lightskin light skin, like my own fucking daddy is the same fucking color as Stephen curry, this nigga is a lightskin, but similar to Stephen curry. You know hat nigga black. Even the biracial, what's that chick's name, the one that ppl attend Bette in the L word, Jennifer Beeles , you can't sit here and tell me ?, she can pass for one.

I have no idea how she identified, but Rashida Jones that literary looks like a white woman, if Rashida Jones came out and said she adopting blackness and whatever, given she obviously looks like a white woman but nobody can deny her that, no one can fucking deny her of that why? Because Quincy Jones is her god damn daddy. She got a whole nigga as a daddy however it would be strange and unheard of if she never called on to her blackness, or she never even identified as it some can agree for Rashida Jones, that because she don't look the part yea sure, if wanna have a conversation about I'd be thrilled to hear your side, but then it's like you have biracial like fucking Drake, who know that's not a white kind, you have someone like Zendaya, cause like when my mom first day Zendaya on shake it up, she was like who this lil biracial girl? She was like yea who this link black girl on the TV. And they really tried to whitewash Zendaya, they wanted her to look spicy. They wanted the viewers to be like "hmm that could be a black or what I think blackness is. But like I'm early confused.

What is this lady's named. (begins google search typing in show as the white last pretending to be black). Not Rachel Dolezal. Look at that my ancestors blessed me he's the fucking videos, I'ma link the thing in my show notes, so y'all can see the same fucking videos. Y'all can't sit here and tell me you were followed by this white woman her name is Jessica Krung whatever the fuck her name is, y'all can't sit here and tell me this lady, that she was black, like there is no way.

I can understand the realm of black people can look like anything but it's like there is something nigga about someone who go nigga in their blood especially, if it is their direct parents, if their mom a nigga or their daddy a nigga, SOMETHING is going show, y'all can't sit here and tell me you were fooled by this white woman. When is something I mean SOMETHING.

My roommate from South Africa, Sierra, when I first added her on Facebook I was like who is this biracial girl. I'm was like this not a white person for sure, I went thought her picture and I saw how her hair puffed up and shit and I saw a picture of her and her sister, she a cute lil biracial girl, whatever. Even my friend Kayla, this girl is light skin like light skin, not the one that was on the other episode but my other friend Kaylah with an h, she goes to Howard, and she's light skin like shit. But you can look at her and tell she is a nigga. She's not ambiguous, she's just very light skin and she's got two full black parents she's got came out mad fucking light skin so it's like to me how are y'all letting these white people fool you? These white bitches be really fucking trying it, but it's like y'all can't sit here and tell me this is a black person, you cannot sit here and tell me that's a black person.

Like come on speak, like I know all black people sound different like all blacks people sound different but it's something about the all black people and, I learned this from an anthropology stand point. But like from an anthropologist standpoint there is a certain way that black people speak like regardless of geographic location, there is literally a way black people speak. Don't get me wrong nigga sound like a white persona real fucking quick i.e. shouts out to code switching. but like I know in a state of panic the police given you know ACAB, but in the event of me needing immediate emergency assistance people will come because I know how to change the inflections in my voice to where i can sound like a white woman, and even people mock white people anyone can white a whit person and be like " yea thats a white person " you're obviously mocking a whites person regardless of geographic location, i am going to look into this further, and if someone who is a studying anthropology, especially if its cultural anthropology, come on and talk about this as though the yes of your major, imma look it up myself and like regurgitate it the way that i understand and hear it the way that i understand, since this is your field it would be cool if you came on and talk yo shit and get us hip and everything.

And out communities, so we can get hip to things that we dont know just tp hear somebody else, so I'm not out here talking to myself, its pretty lonely community if I'm only here talking to myself, wouldn't you agree, but overall I'm confused how this Jessica lady has followed you niggas but i can understand the Rachel doelzal for some people but even then i know that lady was a white woman

Angel (my older sister): This guy comes in. He was like i want some good old fashioned chipotle (chip- pot-le).

Me : not chipotle

Angel: he was like strongly stretching out his words once he said chipotle and he said it really fast and then he passed, and he then he like looked up and he said " i dont mean to be rude but do you not have any, what's the proper term for it, caucssains working here ?"

Me: dawg do you want your food to taste like tears ? Like the guac already tastes like tears. Like it already Tate like fucking tears

Angel : the managers then she came out cause we were just stunned, cause we had a line and he was like asking, I'm just like sit can we just get you food and we like i dont want to be mean but like i dont want of like your color rub off on my food

Me; what the fuck ?

Angel : what sense does that make ??

Me: we are in Philadelphia just so people can understand. I understand I empathize how southern i am but this happened in fucking Philadelphia, in the city not in like in the fucking county or whatever.

That reminds me of that episode of greys, i dont know if you've seen it , or you've probably seen the clip of it on tumblr where the paramedic got in an car accident, and the paramedic had a swaktka like tattooed on his stomach,

Angel: I've never seen the episode but I've seen the post on tumblr all the time, i also took a picture of his shirt, Ecuador's I was going through my phone to show you,

Me: what about recently deleted?

Angel: I deleted those too, I was just going through my camera and I do remember what his shirt said. But it would make it so much better of you could see what his shirt said. Right when he was leaving it was going on my break, and I always go outside, because its hot, and I work on the grill. I just saw him walking away, like he just had a gun and American flag and eagle on the front of it.

Me : of course he would be wearing that

Angel : you know the cuacussianness

Me : the caucacity

(both laughing)

Angel : but anyway like the back of his shirt said make out guns illegal, we'll just call them undocumented too.

Me : Judas Priest. Ok um... ya know.. I'm not saying we can stop it right here

Angel : because I'm on the grill and not on the line at the time while i was int he store, I didn't know if he got nay food or not.but when he left he did not have any foo. Like due you was in here for a half hour asking

Me : oh my goodness, not a half hour. Where was the closest chipotle after that

Angel : there is one at 16th and Chestnut and thats at liberty place, that's kind of like a mall

Me : yea I've been there and they don't allow minors in there, I remember that , they told me to show my ID, i was like bitch let me in

Angel : only because they are trying to be upscale and they know people bring their noisy kids in there

Me : But its a Claire's in that bitch ..cant be upscale if there is a Claire's that hoe like (laughing) take that Claire shout then like are you dumb

Angel : listen they tried. Then there is one at 12th and walnut in the Gayborhood. And that's literally three blocks down, do you know when you got off the train to meet me on Friday ?

Me : sure .

Angel : so if you were to walk in the opposite direction on that street.

Me : so he could've just walked, mayo money head ass,

Angel : i dont think he would've wanted to go to the one in 12th and walnut because thats the gayborhood, and it tends to be a lot of people in the lgbt community around there. And you can tell they live around there and thats their neighborhood. Like on the street sign you know how it would say Martin Luther King Blvd in another little thing under it, it has rainbows all over it the signs in the gayborhood and the hospital is over there

Me : its like the what's it called in New York,

Angel : just like in Chinatown

Me : what's the shit Called in New York. Fuck.

Angel : i dont know I'm not from New York

Me : cause i went there, I wasn't like in there but uhh..... (me looking it up).

Angel : I've only been to New York once and i dont think i will ever go back its too many people

(agrees)

Me: Greenwich Village boom. I was struggling to remember that , but yea New York like using village, because you got Seneca village. I wanna go to New York so i can go see the thingy they have to Seneca Village. I find it funky how anthropologists are now, trying to figure out how did they live, what did they do. What did they wear.

Angel : the only reason they're trying to figure that out now is because there is black people working with them that want to figure that out, if it was just Caucasians in the field they wouldn't care ... ooooooh you're approaching, my food is coming and I'm so happy.

Me : what you got to eat?

Angel : i got some pho

Me (appalled) WHAT? So you just? Ok? Thanks for sharing. That's fine, I would've even send you the fund to get it . But thats fine you know what I'm going to take myself downtown and enjoy myself by myself because you obviously took care of ya self which is fine

Kendall (my little brother).: ok christine, calm down,

Angel : listen this was a last minute dinner plan. And listen i got you a quesadilla that you thoroughly enjoyed that you didn't even finish.

Me : i said this was gonna be for later

Kendall : exactly so calm down

(angel agrees)

Me : I'm being a little gluttonous but I've been craving pho , so don't fully attack me

(Angel comes back with food)

Angel : i know its like i don't see this on my stuff, and they are the only place that consistently done it. Even before things got bad.

Me : (dismissive tone) i think its cool they the black lies matter shit in the name of the server, but that's cool and all but Philadelphia is a black ass city. It's the behavior that I'm expecting

Angel : well this not a black ass city there are parts of Philly that are black ass but philly is a mix of a city. Cause there are some neighbors that you'll go in where there are not black people. At all its all Asians, like when i was in middle school, there was nothing but Asians and Hispanics, there were a pen turned to black people but black are mostly in this neighborhood, mamas neighborhood, and a few others

Me: well to me in my eyes from me being in white as a place for a Very long time

Angel. : its because youre getting a lot of color thats not just black. And you're probably jsut seeing it all as black, because you're seeing all everybody being influenced by the black aspect of philly

Me : I mean i still think of cities where I know historically black, or have a very strong black influence, like i think of Baltimore, i think of the same thing, when i think of Detroit i think of the same thing, liberty city, is a very black city. In Florida, like I think of those places, like even when i think of New Orleans, i think of place of where art of black people have a very strong influence to where it is an illusion,if you could say of like the places Ike philly being a black city because if someone tells me to name a white city, my ass is gonna say fucking Sacramento, California, thats the first thing that comes to, that would come out my out or Windor , Texas. But windor texas in a sundown town so that's how i know to a white ass town, or if someone says name a place where someone asks me to name a place that has a lot os Spanish influence I'm going to say Miami

Angel : damn its dark as fuck

Me : yea it got dark really fast. It got really dark really fast

Angel : let me figure out wheat time the bus comes because yall fuck around and get home at midnight and shit

Me : yea I'm not with THAT

Seg 3

Me : but yea do you have any advice to give to the children, or the folks. Something that is more cushioned that i would

Angel : wear your fuckign face mask bro,

(Both of us out laughing)

Real shit I'm tired of people walking into places and not wearing their motherufkcing face masks, actually my advice for these mother fucking people will , yo eyes see everything before shit start coming out your mouth, so use your eyes to read. So if the sign on the door says you wear a fuckign face mask, wear a face mask, if the sign not eh credit card machine says " swipe, chip does not work ' swipe , look with your eyes stop trying to stick something, why are people so dumb? Just read

Me: they don't want to

Angel : reading is fundamental ,

Me : one of the key words and root words of fundamental is fun ya know f is friends who do stuff together, u is for you and me, n is for anywhere- wait that would make no sense, because n is for anywhere but anywhere starts with A .

Angel : no

Me : or maybe i got the song fucke duo

Angel : its the slang for it.

Me : oh ight. Got it got it. (greet my sisters bf) what up playa pimp

Angel : its the slang for it when you take away the A.

Me : thats what i figure but i wa like wait a damn minute. But when it goe sin regards to wearing hr masks make sure that shit goes over your nose

Angel : (confused) .Did you not know that ? ?

Me: maybe because i annuicatte anything, thats why i just like wait... there is not A in fun.

Angel: it goes with the song...and it make sense with the song,

Me : I know, it does but I'm not saying i didn't realize it , when i think of lyrics to songs i think of the entire word even if its slang, maybe thats the way my brain processes it

Angel : you're overthinking it.

Me : leave me alone. Like i was saying in regards to the mask, make sure that goes over your nose, i did have a nice lively conversation, with Dr. Janania Jeff. By the way in the Instagram DMS. She very funny and very stylish by the say. And we were talking about the mask thing. And i put it on the IG story and she swiped up saying yes, people fail to realize it supposed to go over your nose, under ya neck on your chin. Your neck is exposed to the dirt neck germs so its better to take it off or just speak up and annunciate. Like I understand with your mask but its still wrong. It's hurtful on your ears and like having to take it and put it back on.

Angel : if its not going right here (her neck folded) its going on my forehead. (feelings for mask around neck)

Me : its not on your neck (laughing)

Angel : There are times when i come home, and i still have on my mask on after i took everything off, there was one say

Me : but its like when I'm like trying to talk and i dont feel like yelling i jsut take that Shit off and hold it in my hand like on some real shit take it off, please dispose of them, if you have the fabric ones like how i have that has a filter, make sure y'all wash that twice or three times a week

Angel : i have a question, is your episode almost over?

Me: i mean it can go, because you're technically you're a guest so the episode can be as long as i want it to be

Angel : ok , so I have a question

Me : Whats the question ? I probably can answer it,

Angel : why are white peoples so dense ? Only because today its just like em and this girl i work with had to carry these cardboard boxes to the trash but the dumpster is not immediately close so because there is that coffee shop right there. So we are walking. And a lot of white people seem to like it so they will seem to congregate right there and just talking and blocking and taking up the sidewalk right there. And we are both trying to get past, and we are yelling excuse me and they are just looking at us. Like we aint standing here for out health. Like this one white guy wa like “ you didnt have to push me “. Like i will only say excuse me TWICE .i was say it in my normal voice and then i will speak up and and if you cant her me the second time I’m pushing your ass the fuck out the way.

Me : as you can tell my sister has as soft voice, unlike me. Cause imma only say that shit ONE time, like no bullshit I realize thats how white people. If i see a gaggle of white people taking up space i going to walk though Nelly has seen be do it .

Angel : like i know my voice is soft so ill only say it twice, so if you didnt hear me and i wa sentimentally be loud with you, i will push you out of way, and if you’re mad because i pushed out of the way you should over the second time is aid excuse me. I dont give a fuck about you wearing AirPods, or ear buds and not being able to hear, if youre out in public your music should not be that fucking loud where youre going to be around people, because thats how you get muddled or shot or something bad happening.

Me : that is very true

Angel : you should be able to hear your surroundings

Me : Nelly has seen be plow through a gaggle of white men. When i tell you angel they were taking up the fuckign sidewalk because in my mind. I dont hang out with groups of people often.right when i do, not gonna lie when i am with a group of blacks people I be like yea lets just take up the space, and get out the way for people, just to get out the way. When i see just a gaggle of whit people whoa re purposely taking up fucking space on the sidewalk, especially if it was downtown. I would plow though them and they would look all confused, like first the fuck of all you’re taking up all the space. All fo you saw me coming, the way that i walk, i walk fast but I’m as fast enough where you can assbel yourself to get the fuck out the way because it does not look like I wya slowing down when I’m walking.

Angel : its like a car on the highway

Me: exactly, you either speed the fuck up or get the fuck out of them ay, its that simple, i can just tell by the way I walk, i can understand why people have slow drivers,.

But yea whit people are so dense

Angel : working downtown its just, I’m having a new found strong dislike of , i cant say hatred because i have a belief , if you hate something you love it as much as you hate it because love an hate and equal emotions on the scale.

Me : sure

Angel : its just like deep deep down even if you don't want to admit it you love something but you can still hate at the same time

Me : i guess i can say that about mashed potatoes, i love potatoes in all forms but I despise mashed potatoes. Y'all call cancel me ion give a fuck

Angel : mashed potatoes are fucking disgusting. Anyway

Me : good that Kendall cant hear this

Angel : I was just saying in relationship to people , mashed potatoes don't count , they are just disgusting

Me: but i love potatoes

Angel : but I'm hater, but you [referring to Kendall dont even like onions

Me : fuckign weirdo , my brother does not like onions, he doesnt like strawberries like he's such a weirdo

Angel : (surprised) what ? Since when don't you like strawberries

Me : (mocking him) they arent sweet enough. He had shitty American strawberries

Kendall : i never said they weren't sweet, i said " every strawberry I've ever had was just sour "

Angel : well i just need to buy you some strawberries

Me: right! Like he is making excuses, stop making excuses,

Kendal: im not making excuses, I'm still waiting for the strawberries. Ive been waiting since they've been in seasons. You said you were going to buy me some

Angel : i aint know about this so since i know now ,i will get you some strawberries

Me: oh shit if we wanna make the bus, we better yabbadaddle skattle for real. Ight let me mask up.

I forgot to share, that i stated lsinting to young thug, i started listening from 2016, and shit he's so versatile, he's so fucking good. Like he's really fucking food. Like I'm very, like i dont know hwy I'm so surprised. I'm just like this nigga is good. Like this man is so fucking wonderful. Like this man is a genius the fucking album Wyclif? Yo first of all the cover art? That purple ??? Like yes i fuck it so much, like the second concerns are open, i want to see this man in concert like I'd not wanna listen to the album he has with chris brown I'd not wanna give chris brown money, like i just dont. I dont know how royalties work, but

Angel : just stream it on Spotify .

Me : i use Spotify, ill use it on YouTube . Yea boom they dont get money for streams on YouTube. Ill just listen to it on some else account so they dont money and that person is under the guise and microscope of copyright infringement before it goes away. So boom. I can never mention something about a problem without a proposed solution because then it sounds like I'm complaining

(Laughing)

It really sound like I'm complaining
But yea Kendall, lets yabbadable skattle

Seg 4

Me : ight this the end of my episode this is where imma promote a black owned (phone falls) can't you not fall? My phone thinking they grown trying fall and shit. So I'm take it off the changer, cause my phone is acting like that. AHFFF that's awesome. I just got a really nice text message.

The business I'd would like to promote is actually a restaurant that I actually went to! And I fervently enjoyed it, Ben's Next Door. It's in Washington D.C.the address is 1211 fiftyeven (laughs let me stop). It's 1211 U streets NW Washington DC. I went there went i went to DC, i went there on Saturday with my friend kaylah that i shouted out and everything like that, we went for brunch, i got a crab omelette. It's essentially and omelette that has cheese, tomatoes, and crab meat. On top of it, i thought the crab meat was going to be inside, but ya know it is what it is, i got some home fried that was bussin i was supposed to get a buscit but there was no more so i got this fire ass cornbread shit, case we went during brunch, i got a mango something, that had alcohol in it because I'm grown, that Shit was s good,a don they got mimosas that are unlimited for $20, me and kaylah should've did that but its black owned, the music is fire, the nigga there lowkey cute the women's here are cute too everybody cute, the place was bumping and shit and I enjoyed myself.

So yea, Bens next door or U street, yall go check them out, I definitely enjoyed my time there! They have outside seating area and the space there is pretty spacious

Y'all can also check out a podcast das my homie Shay's podcast, they use they them pronouns, yall betta not be going around misgernding folks y'all not gonna like it, it's not that hard, and yall can check out their podcast for the homies, on all streaming platforms, hosted by, no, I'm trying to read the lil thingy they got, A podcast hosted by walker and Shay, two black queer non- binary folks who enjoy delivering food for the homies in the form of music books and vibes, the vibes is here, they just came out with their new episode on Sunday, I'm about to listen to that and yea, yall be easy now. Make sure yall ate something today, this is longer than it wanted it to be, but imma mixmaster it up and edit it ya know

That's the second restaurant that I've eaten at since Covid happened, before that i went to a Mexican place with my roommate, i surprised her on her doorstep for her birthday which is why the episode aint come out on Wednesday because it as up until 5 am making her birthday gift and i burned myself making it but ya know its a act of labor of love but yea i went there and Ben's on U street was the second one, so dont be out here thinking out eating with nights, i grab my food and go eat outside on the grass with my mosquito coils . But yea yall niggas be easy I luv y'all thank yall so much much sure yall rate and like the thangy in the iTunes Store um yea i got got a surprise, next episode, its not to admits that I'm white woman, because I already did that (laughs) but imma fuck with yall though ,
