

Recently, NBA player, Draymond Green's wife, Hazel Renee, revealed that she is expecting a baby. This new kid will be the couple's fifth child. They already have four kids- Olive, Draymond Jr., Cash, and Hunni. After the announcement, fans, NBA personalities and their significant halves flocked to the post to congratulate the lucky couple. The announcement came amidst the start of the NBA's playoff season.

Hazel Renee reveals she is expecting fifth child, sending NBA fans and stars into a buzz

When it comes to his children, Draymond Green has never been afraid to give credit where credit is due. Being a father has compelled the Golden State Warriors forward to be self aware and develop both on and off the court.

Green and his spouse, Hazel Renee, have established a blended family at home. Meanwhile, Hazel made the kind of announcement that had social media buzzing. She uploaded a light-hearted video on Instagram and in the last seconds, exposed a baby bump beneath her shirt.

She captioned the video:

"People Just Be Loud And Wrong Or Do They?! Helllloooo September It's Givingggg Slight #2under2 @money23green And I Are OVER THE MOON Baby Green #5 Loading."

The couple already has four children- Cash, Hunni, Draymond Jamal Jr., and Olive Jay. Meanwhile, the NBA community and the fans immediately started buzzing with excitement. Ayesha Curry, wife of Stephen Curry, and Savannah James, wife of LeBron James, both liked the post without commenting.

Draymond Green and Hazel Renee's growing family: From their first child to baby number five

Renee's exact due date is still uncertain, but fans could expect more updates soon given how active she and Green are on social media. Hazel Renee and Draymond Green, meantime, have a blended family. Renee and Jacob Pullen, a former NBA player, welcomed their eldest child, Olive Jay, into the world in November 2014.

On the other hand, Green and Jelissa Hardy, his college girlfriend, had a son, Draymond Jamal Green Jr. Green and Hazel Renee had their first child together, Cash Green, in October 2020. Hunni Green, their youngest, came in December 2023.

Hazel has also been candid in acknowledging achievements. She hosted a Y2K-themed birthday celebration for Olive's 10th birthday at Sloomoo Institute in Los Angeles last November. She wrote in the caption:

“First heart outside of my body running free.”

With a new kid on the way, the Greens' family is only expanding. Even though Draymond hasn't said a word yet, people have nevertheless congratulated the couple and speculated about how the Warriors star's vision on the future may change if he becomes a father again.

Also read: “That’s a tough thing to say” - Draymond Green fires back at Alperen Sengun after the latter’s playoff comments