

PRIVACY

Some user data (such as photos, access token, user id) are stored when required for Apps to be functional, but not shared or used without your permission or when not required for proper functioning of the app.

Like many websites or Apps, we collect information including user's e-mail & password. We collect this information for authorization.

We currently use Google Analytics to manage ads. As a result, the information collected is also covered by their privacy policy.

We reserve the right to change this Privacy Policy at any time.
