... [Timeout] Don't pick anything

Currently there are some routes that are broken, this was translated from the Japanese guide so I may have missed a choice or made a choice that did not coincide with the original so If someone finds the right routes to those endings feel free to edit the routes and post the paths for fellow anons.

Save #'s are used to pre-load different choices, Ex: If I am going down a route and It says to save, we will be going back to that save later in the guide and pick different choices in order to get a different ending/route. Simple enough right?

Some Choices may or may not appear as well. Whether it's a change in the game or if it's just an oversight on my end is a complete mystery to me. Those will either be marked with Brackets [] Or will Include Asterisks  as well as just literally saying "omitted" inside the guide, use common sense to know when something is their or not.
