Privacy Policy for Mono Launcher

Mono Launcher by Mana Codes does NOT collect any user data and does NOT share any users' information with third parties. It only stores information about applications on an Android phone on the device. This information is required for this launcher to do its functionalities. This information never leaves users' device and is stored by the Android system in the application's configuration.