

By means of this document, the undersigned authors certify that the article submitted for possible publication in the journal ReHuSo, entitled:

---

It is original and does not contain any restricted, classified, patented, or pending publication elements, nor elements published elsewhere, in any language.

We take responsibility for the content of this article and declare that we have no commercial association that could generate a conflict of interest in relation to it.

The accompanying figures and illustrations faithfully represent the reported facts and have not been digitally altered. All data and references to previously published materials are duly identified and included in the References.

Therefore, we declare that all submitted materials are completely free of copyright and, therefore, we assume responsibility for any litigation or claim related to intellectual property rights, exonerating the Technical University of Manabí, Manabí, Ecuador, from all liability.

If the submitted work is approved for publication, as author(s) and copyright owner(s), we authorize ReHuSo journal, for an unlimited period of time, to reproduce, edit, distribute, display, and communicate it in the country and abroad through print, electronic, database, pre- and post-publication repositories, the Internet, or any other means known or unknown. Likewise, the undersigned authors acknowledge that the journal ReHuSo embraces the open access principles established in the Berlin, Bethesda, and Budapest Declarations; therefore, we accept that the submitted work be distributed openly, safeguarding copyright under a "creative commons" license.

As evidence of the foregoing, this declaration is signed on the day of the month of , in the year , in the city of .

Name and lastname

Signature

Author 1

Author 2

Author 3

...

This document must be sent in its original or scanned form, with the signature of each author, as part of the documentation accompanying the article.