Introduction

This guide is made for the Descent into Avernus campaign, but this can be used for other campaigns too. This is not official whatsoever but is just made by a silly D&D fan. There is no copyright on this by me, but please don't post this guide as your own. These encounters can be easy or hard for your party. Just remember that most of these encounters don't have to be combat. The only encounters I would advise to be combat are the ones with demons or creatures that are descendants of demons (gnolls, minotaurs etcetera). This is of course just advice and you can use them however you like. If the encounter becomes a tpk or is just too hard, you can say that they leave to fight in the blood war or something else. You shouldn't always use them, only when they deserve a challenge. These are just some filler encounters for your campaign, so have fun using these
