“It’s Above Me Now”
Prize: $30

This tweet went viral yesterday:

The story behind is that a racist lady called a hotel clerk the N-Word and then tried to get him to book a room for her to which he rightfully declined with this “saying.”

Basically, it’s the new catch phrase of the day stating that you don’t care. And that whatever issues or problems that are going on, is in the hands of a possible higher power whether God or management.

I would like for this design to be text based but somehow include a “Kanye shrug” if you will.

Kanye Shrug:

We don’t have a color scheme for this, so just be creative.
