// ⚠️ Trigger Warning: Mentions of S*ic*de and Self H*rm

(raxts1 has deleted and re-activated her twitter account six times during this document (over 3 days) to pretend she is deleting her twitter to make people feel sorry for her.)

@raxts1 on twitter is a bad person and is manipulative, narcissistic, uses suicide to control people and attacks anybody who disagrees with her or negatively interacts with her.

If you do not wish to read the entire document, then you can feel free to just read the “Quick Pictures” section, the one directly after this section to stay informed!

This document will be about her and the things she has done.

She does the following:

- emotionally manipulating friends, staff, developers and twitter followers to work for her, join her server, donate her robux and feel sorry for her.

- extreme victim complex (is always the victim of every situation and tries to make people feel sorry for her)
- weaponizes her sadness and mental health conditions to control people
- creates or exaggerates fake or false situations such as being doxxed, receiving hate (from someone who has no idea who she even is), receiving death threats in order for people to give sympathy to her.
- attempts to hack and doxx other people and game competitors, finding and releasing their personal information
- regularly suicide baits to control people and make them feel sympathetic for her
- encourages the attack of anybody (including other children) who disagree with her, dislike her or has a negative interaction with her, linking their twitter to make people go send them hate

There is proof provided for all of these claims in this document, please make sure to make your own judgement of her from the evidence provided below.

Fact: Raxts is 19 years old, she will become a legal adult in October, her friends, fans and people she often interacts with are mostly all younger than her.

Evidence provided in this document is a mixture of her public tweets, messages in her current discord server (Rainbow Unities), her old discord server (Free Love, she handed over ownership after she threatened to commit suicide after a fight with her co-owner) and her direct messages with people on discord and twitter.

As you may know her old discord username is iam.laurabr

Update as of 6th May 2021

Rather than stopping, Laura has done the following since the release of this document 3 days ago:

(This all took place on May 6th in the span of 2 hours)

- Tweeted a picture of her crying
- Tweeted a 1 minute video of her crying, which can be found here
- Tweeted this:

raxts (check pinned)

I'm committing suicide

10:06 pm · 6 May 2021 · Twitter for iPhone

2 Quote Tweets 7 Likes

- Tweeted 2 more videos of her crying and telling twitter that her depression isn't fake, despite depression not being mentioned once (her using her mental health conditions to maintain control once again), I do not feel comfortable posting these and she is free to delete them at her own will on twitter.
- Tweeted this tweet:

- Temporarily deleted her twitter account to pretend she was deleting her twitter
- Re-activated her twitter account after 2 hours of it being deleted.
- Then went private on twitter after faking suicide for the 10th time

7th May

- Set her twitter profile picture to a photo of her taking a selfie smiling
- Deleted her twitter for a second time to pretend she was deleting her twitter
- Re-activated her twitter account around 30 minutes after deleting it
- Made her twitter public to show people a series of tweets trying to get sympathy once again:

- Deleted her twitter account a third time an hour later
- Re-activated her twitter account 3 hours later
- She then privated her twitter again

It is very common for her to exaggerate or create false situations such as receiving death threats, being doxxed and being harrassed by alts to make people hate a person or make followers feel sorry for her.

She has so far provided 0 proof of her claims of receiving death threats, being harrassed by alts or any of her claims to being the victim here.

She is currently deleting and blocking all twitter users who show anyone this document.

She could choose to stop all the manipulation she is doing, but instead she chooses to continue it, raking up sympathy from her followers.

The document continues below.

Quick Pictures

These only takes around 1 minute to skim through if you do not wish to read the entire document!

Laura (raxts) threatening to commit suicide and self harm on camera after she gave server ownership to her Co-Owner after a fight, but then wanted them to hand server ownership back.

Doing this project was the only

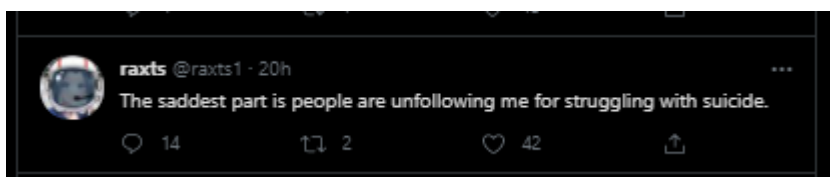

(Some photos are on different occasions, the timestamp is just the same as they are taken at the time of her saying them.)

Within the past month, Laura has quit twitter, Roblox and discord around 10 times (pretended to commit suicide around 4 times).

It often takes her just hours to return after pretending to quit.

During these times, she usually tweets asking for a reason to stay in order for people to compliment her, say good things about her, feel sorry for her or help or donate to her game.

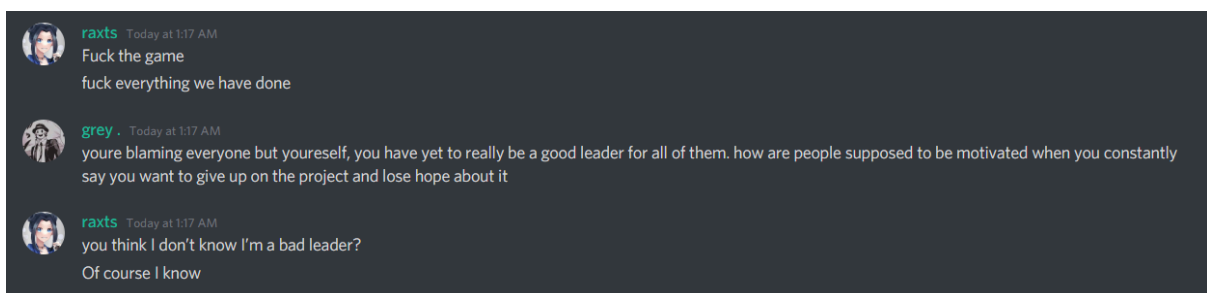

Significant increase in likes because she manages to put the idea in people's head "if you unfollow me or ignore this tweet you are not supporting someone with suicide."

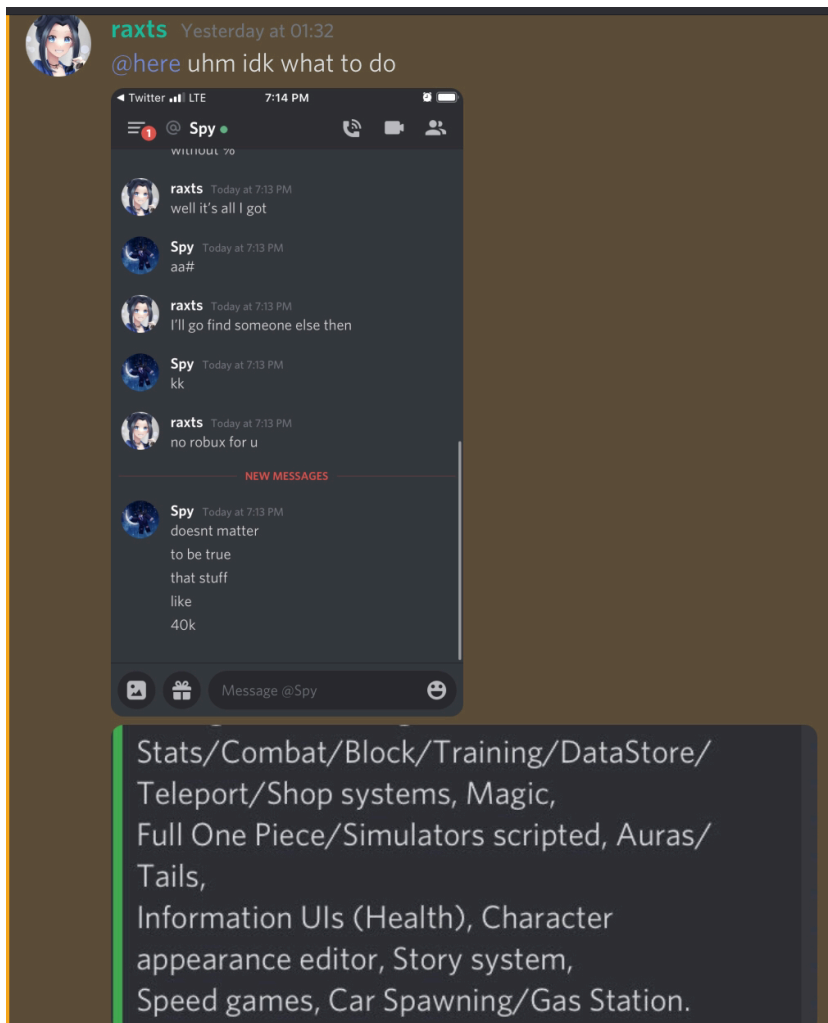

Her blaming unpaid developers and admins for the game not doing well.

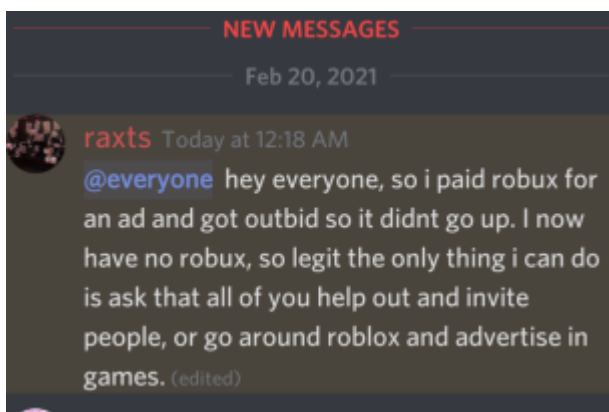

She then makes herself the victim in the bottom two messages.

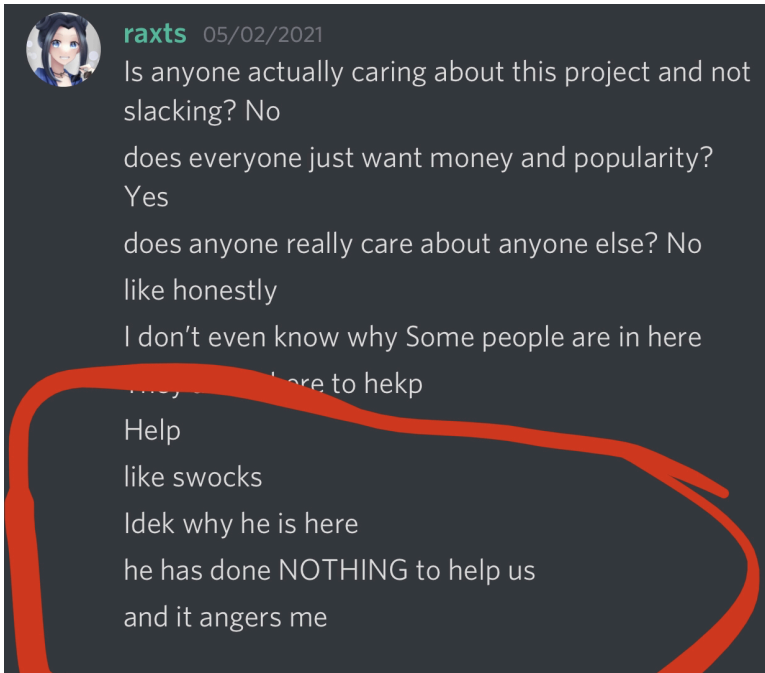

Guilt tripping her followers for not liking and replying to her tweets.

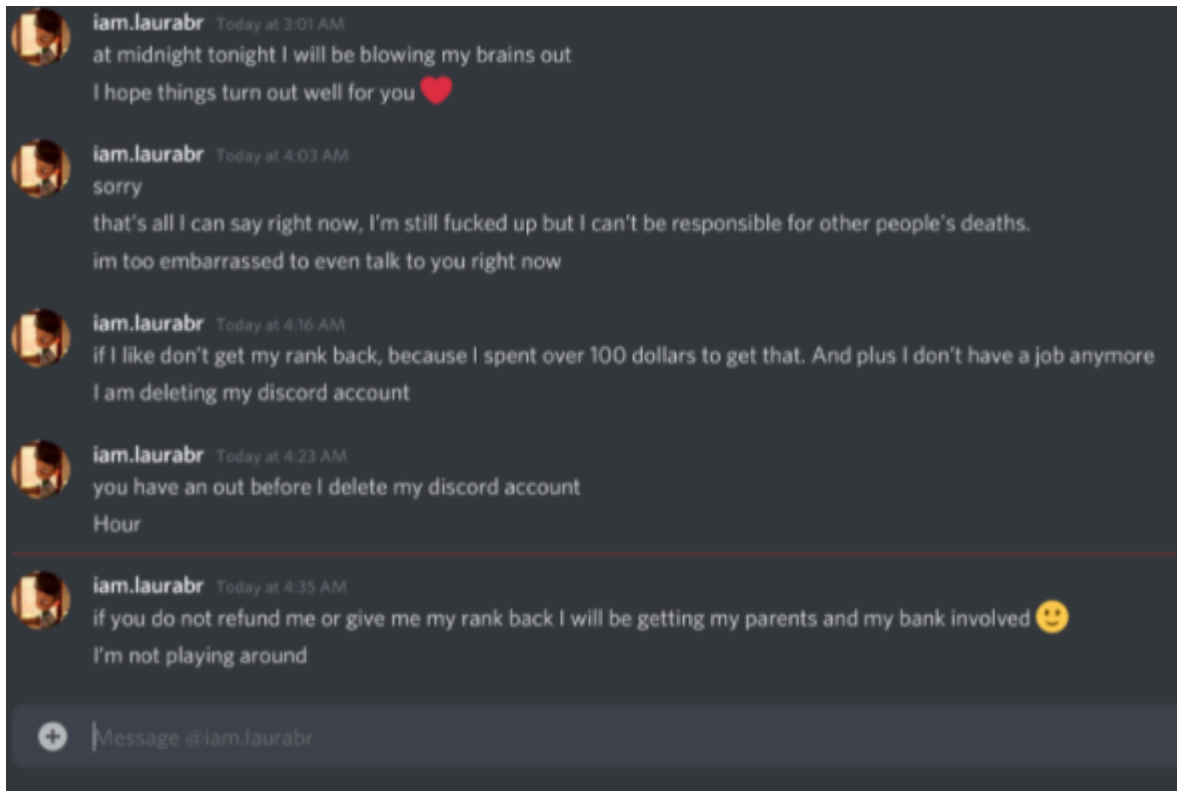

Pinging all online people in her server to make them feel sorry that she cannot afford scripters, despite constantly bragging about a 50,000 Robux donation she received.

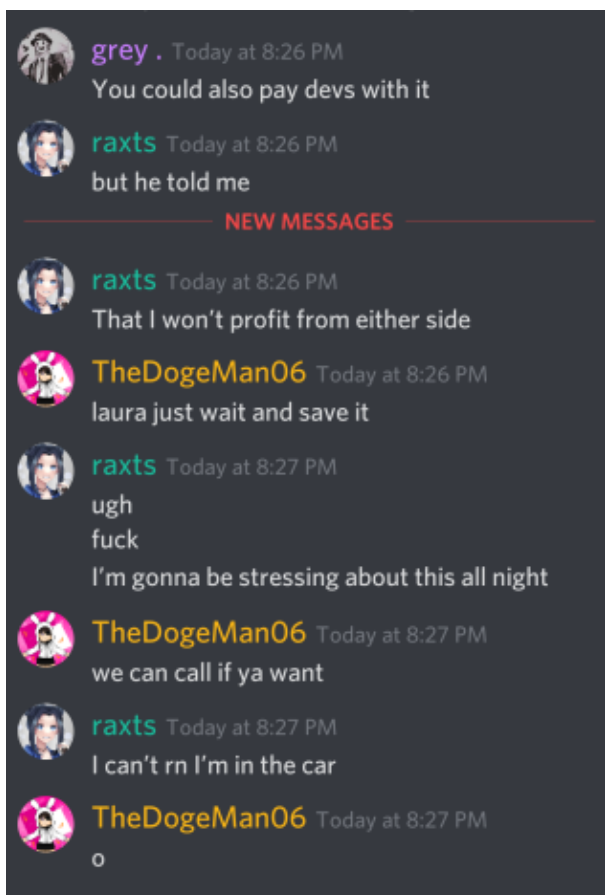

Compilation of photos of her guilt tripping people into donating to her or helping her with her game.

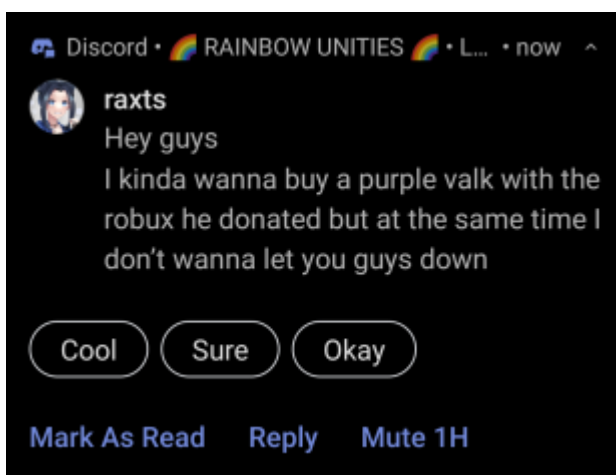

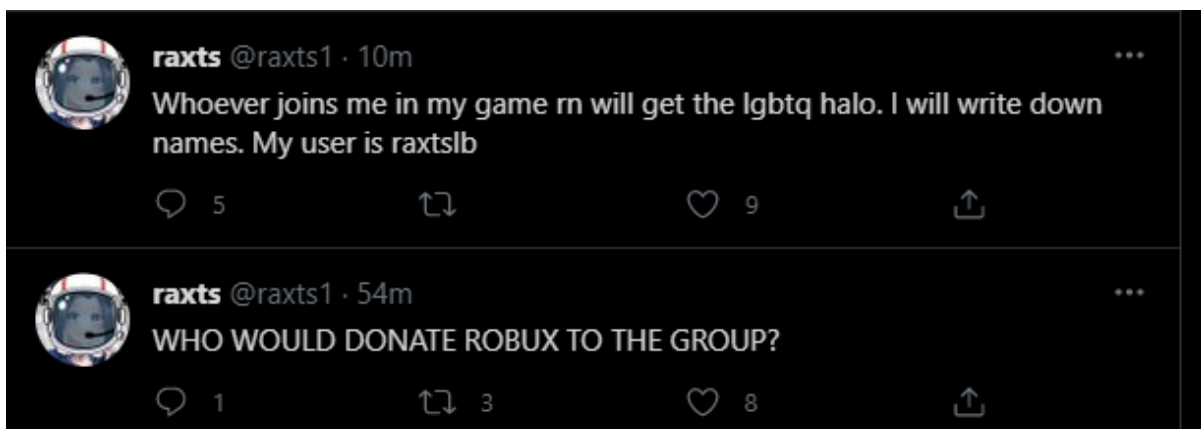

Threatening to commit suicide because of a rank on a roblox group she lost.

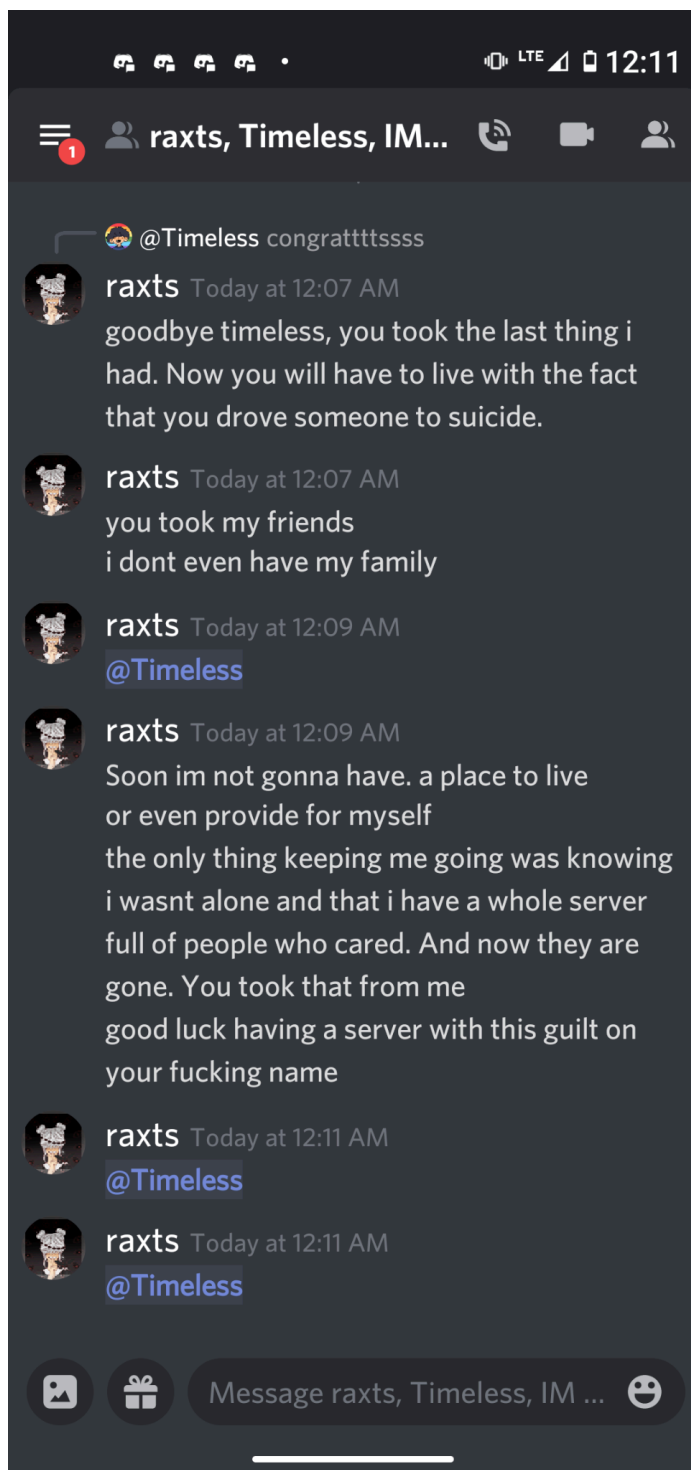

Her refusing to pay developers, then making herself the victim instead.

Her upset by another Roblox game getting Robux donations so she begins to confront the owner telling them that they do not deserve it and ranting on twitter.

After all the fundraising for her LGBT game and receiving the donations she guilt tripped people into, she questioned purchasing a purple valkyrie hat with the Robux instead.

adjective

adjective: narcissistic

having or showing an excessive interest in or admiration of oneself and one's physical appearance.
"a narcissistic actress"

Although narcissism isn't always a negative personality trait, raxts' thinks she is above everyone she speaks to and often uses her followers to fuel hers.

Her narcissism isn't one of the worst things she has done at all, however it should be acknowledged that it is there.

This is called compliment-fishing where you say bad things about yourself, simply for the purpose of making other people compliment you and say good things about you.

In my opinion, this crying is completely fake, some people on twitter also agree with this

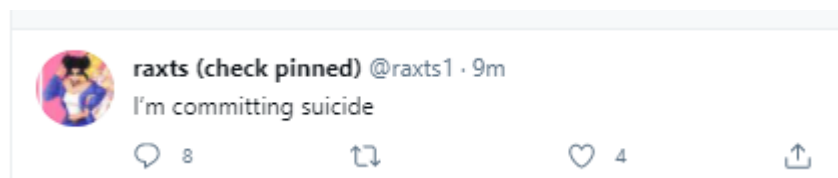

Of course, since she was crying, some people gave her what she wanted

It is not their fault for falling for what she does at all and we should never blame them, but help people become informed.

Unrelated to narcissism however she requested art from a person and after they finished it told them she no longer wanted it and was having someone else already making it.

Her Response

She will most likely respond to this document on twitter attempting to make her followers feel sorry for her and play the victim, she will also most likely call the person who made this document “a hater” and pretend she is going to “ignore the hate”

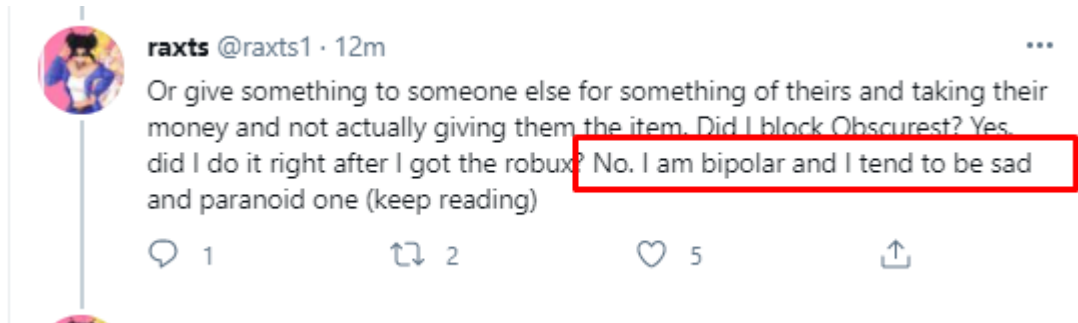

This is not true, we do not hate raxts we simply want to make her followers and other people aware of her and her actions. Do not buy into her games of emotional manipulation when she tries to make you feel sorry for her.

Despite her claims, this document was not made by a former staff member.

If you wish to spread awareness of this, go to her twitter @raxts1 and reply it to her tweets or to other people in the replies of her tweets.

Thank you so much for reading! Stay safe!

She responded

Laura's response does exactly what this document is informing you of, she uses her mental health condition to her advantage in her apology once again.

Her Response

Yep, we predicted it.

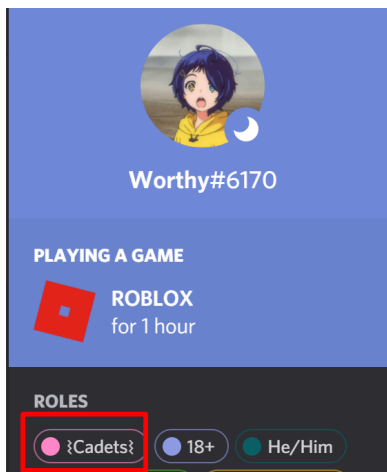

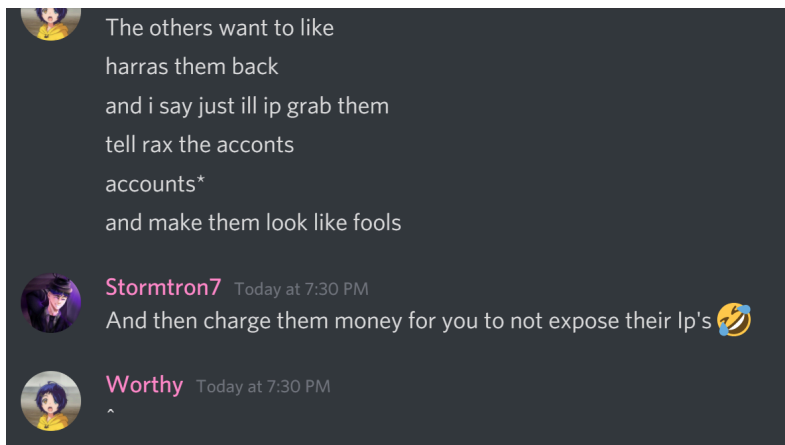

Her victim mentality kicking in once again, did she consider how other people's lives would be affected when she was blaming them for her suicide?

Yep, she once again in her response does exactly what the document is informing you of.

She doesn't think of others and sees herself as the only person whos feelings matter, she didn't care about anybody else when she was blaming them for her suicide or threatening to "slit her wrists on call" because of them

But once we show people what she did suddenly we're putting her feelings in danger?

Laura and her server moderators plan to blackmail and extort the creators of this document by grabbing their IPs and threatening to leak them unless they pay them money.

After threatening to kill herself because of people, trying to call people to “slit her wrists on camera”, emotionally manipulating fans, threatening to dox 14 year olds this is her response, She deleted this tweet around 2 minutes after posting this after it received negative feedback and people called it inappropriate.
