

In full bloom: Five Senses Tour offers look at beautiful gardens

Photos by Tim Jean Jul 14, 2025

Ralph and Caryl Slavik of Milford enjoy the flowers during the Five Senses Tour at Tiffany Gardens in Londonderry. TIM JEAN/Staff photos

Listen to this article now
Powered by Trinity Audio

00:00

1.0x

00:04

f in @

LONDONDERRY — For lovers of flowers and garden enthusiasts, there was something for everyone over the weekend during the Five Senses Tour at Tiffany Gardens. The tour, hosted by Community Caregivers of Greater Derry, also featured chances to win raffle prizes along with snacks and beverages to stay energized in the summer heat.

1 of 8

COMCAST BUSINESS

On the largest, fastest, reliable network for small business

LEARN MORE

(855) 571-7878

North Shore's BEST ICE CREAM STAND

North of Boston's BEST ICE CREAM STAND

Seacoast's BEST ICE CREAM STAND

CLICK TO NOMINATE YOUR FAVORITE ICE CREAM STAND.

PREV

A large water fountain offers birds a spot to refresh and take in the views of one of the gardens during the Five Senses Tour at Tiffany Gardens in Londonderry.
TIM JEAN/Staff photo

Taking a break from the self-guided tour are Karen Giguere of Londonderry, left, and Charlene Dumont of Manchester.

TIM JEAN/Staff photo

A view of one of the gardens with birdhouses and layers of flowers during the Five Senses Tour at Tiffany Gardens in Londonderry.
TIM JEAN/Staff photo

Betty Gay of Salem walks into an area covered by branches from a large weeping katsura tree.

TIM JEAN/Staff photo

A bird feeder turned into a flower display is seen in one of the small gardens featured in the Five Senses Tour.
TIM JEAN/Staff photo

Local garden club members walk the grounds with several water features and waterfalls during the Five Senses Tour.

TIM JEAN/Staff photo

A birdbath filled with unique stones, colorful rocks and minerals also features a glass butterfly as a centerpiece.
TIM JEAN/Staff photo