

Mathew 13:8

Still other seed fell on good soil,
where it produced a crop—
a hundred, sixty or thirty times what was sown.

Have to Keep Walking ~by Carlos Saracini

Submitted by Milena Rincon, CPT

Video with Spanish Lyrics : Have to keep walking

Lyrics for English speakers to follow along:

Friends it hurts us to the bones,
and our insides harden
For injustice, cowardice,
Hypocrisy invades us.
There is so much accumulated anger,
so much hidden betrayal
That our eyes are blinded, and disenchantment is quieting us

You just have to keep walking,
you have to keep walking.
You just have to keep walking,
you have to keep walking.

Many are not here, my brother,
and the heart feels the emptiness.
Tears run down our face
They are together with us.
For the pain, the silent voice that hits us, that crushes us.
resist the human who is caged,
the riddled people resists

And our eyes are blinded, that our history is not closed.
They are our tears, our joy,
open seed of our life.

God creates the new humanity,
with our mud it generates it.
God also walks by our side,
Don't be afraid, add your hand.

His spirit continues to encourage these crucified people.
The free people will be possible,
Many witnesses today tell us.
Father Angelelli, Oscar Romero,
Carlos Mujica, a thousand comrades,
His blood sings on our strings,
this is the time of the new humanity