ZEITGEIST vs THE NEW WORLD ORDER

A Manipulative and Malicious Equating of Two Distinct Concepts

The comparison mentioned in the title has been used in Slovenia as an attempt to manipulate public opinion—an effort spearheaded by Boštjan Videmšek, an agent of the New World Order (NWO). He acts as a journalistic mercenary, hired by the shadowy "Global Deep State" (DS) to manufacture public opinion to suit their agenda. The documents provided below shed light on the Deep State, the NWO, and the Zeitgeist movement.

Journalist Boštjan Videmšek (BV) has shamelessly equated the concept of an advanced, humane global order—as presented in the Zeitgeist film series—with the concept of the New World Order (NWO), which is, in reality, inhumane, oppressive, and genocidal toward humanity. The NWO—a centralized, dictatorial global order—is being pushed by the Global Deep State.

Videmšek is a well-known foreign affairs correspondent, notorious for crafting false and biased narratives. Most mainstream media outlets and organizations are under the control of the Deep State. It is, therefore, no surprise that Videmšek—serving as an effective agent for the Global Deep State by peddling commissioned journalistic falsehoods—has received an international award for his work...

Summary and conclusions from the comparison of two social systems

The cited sources provide an exhaustive definition of both social concepts being compared. One cannot expect the average informed reader to know anything about either of the concepts presented in the antagonism mentioned in the title. A journalist in BV's position, however, ought to be thoroughly informed about every aspect of this comparison.

Yet, a certain short piece by BV points to two possible conclusions regarding the nature of this scribbler. One possibility is that he has no clue what he is writing about; the other—more likely—is that he is manipulating public opinion upon instruction and for payment. Ultimately, however, BV is merely one symptom of a sick civilization controlled by a global deep state.

In summary,Zeitgeist can be described, on one hand, as a critique of global rule by a "bankster" and corporate aristocracy, and on the other, as a visionary film depicting a potential, superior civilization—one based on science, advanced technology, justice, and the genuine creative freedom of every individual, with the utmost respect for human individuality and rights.

Admittedly, the civilization proposed in this concept envisions an optimized, centralized, collective global governance—yet one devoid of self-destructive competition for money, free from the domination and exploitation of the masses by elites, and free from wars, conflicts, violence, and the destruction of the planet. A moneyless system may seem utopian, and some even fear a regression into communism; however, such a perspective is merely a flawed view rooted in the past.

Advanced and successful societies can be founded upon the power of an evolved collective consciousness—a framework that also encompasses advanced quantum super-technologies. This should not be equated with the violent, primitive, and dogmatic communism of the past, which was, at best, merely a manifestation of a coercive ideological sect. Vernon Coleman aptly characterizes the New World Order (NWO) as a hybrid of communism and fascism, see 'The Great Reset will change everything'.

It is worth noting that the Zeitgeist movement proposes a vision for a superior civilization, one grounded in and supported by contemporary science and technology. It contains no political, ideological, or religious agendas, nor does it advocate for violent subversion. Furthermore, a specific aspect of the Zeitgeist perspective exposes the covert operations of a "global corporate aristocracy."

A similar summary applies to the concept of the New World Order (NWO). This global "aristocracy"—comprising corporate and banking elites—aims to establish absolute, centralized technological control over every individual, implement a global repressive apparatus, and drastically depopulate the planet. This external facet of the "Deep State" has a hidden background, with deep roots in Satanism, demonic influences, and extraterrestrial colonizers.

To maintain its dominance and expand its control over the majority of the world, the global "Deep State" employs a wide array of covert, as well as overtly brutal and totalitarian, methods. The result is the catastrophic reality and the state of the world that we are all currently witnessing. This aspect is only partially acknowledged by the media-manipulated masses, as the Deep State (DS) controls the majority of media outlets and local regimes. The path leads toward the "bio-robotization" of human beings.

The tangible elements of this visible narrative include subcutaneous microchips, surveillance cameras, mandatory vaccination, chemtrails, HAARP, LGBT-related legislation, media dominance, the manipulation of public information, and so on. However, the largely dormant masses are easily fed the explanation that these are merely deranged conspiracy theories regarding the operations of a "Deep State." Even more inconceivable to the average person is the notion that the activities of this Deep State are merely the external manifestation of extraterrestrial colonial manipulators operating from behind the scenes.

The online sources cited—which substantiate the concept of a New World Order (NWO) and the criminal activities of a global Deep State—represent only a small fraction of the extensive documentation available through alternative media portals. This overview omits detailed arguments covering every facet of the Deep State’s existence—ranging from science, the education system, media, and healthcare to the judiciary and the policies of local puppet regimes. A wealth of information on this subject can be found on the Yoda4newage portal.
