Open Discussion

- PBE had FSAPP/pleasure training two weeks ago
  - Feedback from house was wondering if it was best use of time/planned well
  - A lot of guys remember training by VPR last year, better feedback from that
  - Part of the reason they felt the training wasn't the best was because it was focusing on communication in relationships, doesn't seem the most pertinent to fraternities (fraternities are more about social events and reducing risk there)
- Email conversation with president regarding issues at specific chapter that are most pertinent
  - some amount of communication in general
- Maybe switch format from long form all at once to multiple meetings that are shorter?
  - there are already 3 types of FSAPP trainings planned, so more pertinent topics will likely happen in further meetings
