"Hey dude I just want to thank you for doing the Longhairs that inspirational video you did at the beginning convinced my mom to grow my hair out. I can't wait to get my long hair. Your videos are awesome."

-Colby Hortsmeyer

"Wow... This just blows me away! My husband and I sat down with Arthur this morning and read the comments together. James was just as amazed as I was, and Arthur was so inspired! He is attending a Superhero Camp at Taekwondo this week - when I dropped him off this morning he ran in and told all his friends that he has a new superpower - longhair blast! We can't thank you guys enough! This experience has boosted his confidence and pride in a way that no amount of parental encouragement could - and from the comments on the blog and the YouTube video it looks like your message has done the same for other young longhairs out there too! Keep up the amazing work - the world needs you guys!"

-Mae Mae

"My hair's getting to that "braid length", and I've really been trying to "up" the hair game. So I was youtubing things like "How to braid your hair by yourself", and narrowed down my search to "men's braids". And BOOM. Just like that. The Longhairs was revealed to me and within the hour I became a fan and ordered me some Kokomos Hair Ties. Lol! Anyways, I really like the whole set up you guys have! The Longhairs is definitely the next step in taking care and caring about your hair as a gentlemen."

-Darren Sykes

"Hi I'm new to your website and all your articles are about what I'm going through right now. My last haircut was in March with shaved sides and back and the top of my hair went down to my eyebrows, so I am on my 5th month of growing it out coming towards my 6th and my hair is at such an awkward length right now, so how much longer do I have until I can get out of this awkward stage? Because I really want long hair and I will NOT get another haircut or let anyone get in my way. Oh and p.s. your vlogs are awesome!"

-Nicholas Diulus

"Hi Fella's, came across the site yesterday, really great, informative & well put together. I'm from the UK and have had short hair for 50 years & then had this 'light bulb' moment and decided that it was time for a change, am currently 9 months in and it's going pretty well. Not sure I would have managed to get to this stage if gels or 'man bands' had not been invented! The plan is to get it to one length & to date have had the curls right at the back trimmed twice. Think it's going to take 18 months to two years to get to where I want to be. Glad to be part of the community & thanks again for putting together such a great site!"

-Nick

"Thank you guys for the support...my little one is trying a new style everyday this week. He got so many compliments on monday...his friends love his hair and it's been great for him to have something to talk about with his peers...this year is his first year in a regular classroom setting and start of middle school....he's the coolest kid in the 6th grade! Thank y'all so much."

-Jessica

"A bald man once asked me, "When are you gonna cut your hair so you'll look like a normal person?" I told him, "when I have enough to donate to you"."

-Lev

"Just smashed 6 miles running with a standard lowball + headband. Not one hair moved and no bouncing ball of flipping all over the place on the back of my head. Legit power play."

-El Extrano

"Love this thread. I have been a tight fade my entire life (bald on the sides and a 1 or less on top.) However, I do have a THICK beard. So, my boss at work challenged me to let all my hair grow until I cant take it anymore (Aug 4th was my last cut). I have set a re-evaluation point for November 4th. My hair is super straight and strong.. I literally look like a chia-pet but with straight hair. I am talking some real just straight out on the sides and top (its about an inch or more all round). Anyways, I am just looking for some motivation to get me through this time! again, my hair has never been this long (not in at least 20 years anyway!) I am 27 and nobody has ever seen me without my hair cut.. so the comments are rollicking in.

Thanks guys!"

-Pete

"Glad to see the longhairs always innovating! I look forward to every post and new video"

"YO! LONGHAIRS!

Just got my two packs of Hair Ties for Guys in the mail yesterday — excellent product! Looking forward to V. 2.0 as well.

I've been growing my mane now for just barely over a year (from buzz-cut length) and I now have just enough length that I can use the new hair ties. SO STOKED! The meeting between my hair and shoulders is nearly here.

Question: At what point should I consider myself beyond the "awkward stage"? Hair touching shoulders? Able to tie it up? (can't submit photos here)

I can hardly wait to see where I'm at this time NEXT year."

-J Dubya

"Currently, it is a few inches below shoulder length, though I still plan to let it grow out farther.

I'm really enjoying your site and have found it to be rather helpful. I have definitely learned a lot from reading over the various articles and posts, as well as watching the videos.

As you guys have said, long hair is a community, and it's great to have a place where we can come together in unity. Let it Ride!"

-Jacob.

"Love this! Let's all keep on working to banish ridiculous gender stereotypes, and keep our dignity in the process, just like Arthur and Mae. I hope it is made clear to Arthur and all kids (boys and girls) like him, that your hair is YOURS and society has no right to tell you what you can or can't do with it. I'm going to tell my future children that if you're a decent human being, work hard and have a good personality, having long hair as a guy (or short hair as a girl) will NOT stop you from getting jobs or dates. Keep up the good work El Rubio and El Moreno! You have my full support."
