

Showcasing Our Diversity

Directions: In small groups, assume the identity of museum curators, creating an exhibit on the diversity found within your classroom.

1. Using photos brought from home or on your phone/personal device, select ten for your group.
2. Discuss the types of diversity that the photos represent.
3. Arrange the photos in an exhibit.
4. Write a caption for each photo, describing what it reveals about diversity in your classroom community.
5. Write a short description of the exhibit, explaining to the viewer what they will learn about your classroom diversity.
