Hi John - That would be great to have more folks chime in. Monday is fine, I've got a bit of time for this (and know we're bumping up against Thanksgiving).

best,

Nithin

I'm doing a piece on the Twitter co-op campaign and wanted to see if I could setup a time to do a n interview with you.

This story is for Mobilisation Lab so it'll focus more on the campaign itself - how you are organizing, spreading the word, etc, and not so much the issue. My editor thinks this piece will be a great way to explore people power in a somewhat different context than raw advocacy, and look at how platform co-ops and distributed campaigns network power in a new ways.

Let me know when might work later this week, or early next week. I'm based in California.

Hi Danny and Nithin. Hoping you two can connect so that Nithin may begin building a story for Mobilisation Lab.
Please let me know if I can help or you have questions & ideas.
Thank you.

Thanks for the intro Ted!
Danny - wondering if you had time to chat later this week, or early next week? I'm also in the Bay Area (Oakland) so perhaps we could potentially even meetup in person.
best,
Nithin

[then we arranged a place and time to meet, and I offered to send some background info]
