

Hi {name}

SL: Make it easier for your customers!

I'm really impressed by your glasses, especially the PROSPEK-50. I loved the design with the black and white colors.

I noticed a couple of simple problems that are holding you back from reaching more people.

Your customers are unlikely to buy if they don't feel sure how the product or service meets their needs and adds value.

I created a sales page and a sales email for you completely free.

These pages can solve the biggest problems that your sales page currently has.

I compiled all the essential details into one document to streamline their purchasing process, emphasizing the unique benefits your company provides.

May I send it over?

Best regards,
