> Consultant Mia

You know why you're here Matt.

> Captain Morgan

Yes, obviously I know why I'm here Mia. You and your combat medics have been pestering me about it all fucking week.

> Consultant Mia

I am a Consultant, you know. It's literally my job to concern myself with the physical and mental wellbeing of staff, especially CL4s like yourself. When I catch you starving yourself on a daily basis, walking around the site malnourished, I can't exactly let it slide, can I?

> Captain Morgan

I have a job to do, just like you, okay? It would make both our lives easier if you weren't appearing behind my back every other hour to check if I've eaten and haul me to the cafeteria. I have stuff to do, I'm always bus-

> Consultant Mia

Don't even fucking say you're 'too busy'. It's always this bullshit with you, you're always 'too busy' to eat, scribbling away on your clipboard, which is clearly more important than fucking eating. Either that, or you just 'forget' to eat, which is just even more bullshit.

> Captain Morgan

...

> Consultant Mia

If you could actually be trusted to go to the cafeteria every so often, and at least eat an MRE, then we wouldn't be 'pestering' you so much. So until that happens, we're gonna continue doing it, along with your fellow Captains.

> Consultant Mia

Now then, unless you're 'too busy', I'm gonna start the psych eval.

> Captain Morgan

Okay.

> Consultant Mia

Alright. Name, position, I know all that. Inscribable Mumbling
When was the last time you ate?

> Captain Morgan

This morning, around 9.

Okay, what was it?

> Captain Morgan

An egg omelette.

> Consultant Mia

Do you feel full?

> Captain Morgan

I mean, I don't know, yeah.

> Consultant Mia

Alright, let's just move to the big questions. Why have you not been eating?

> Captain Morgan

Well, it's not on purpose. I don't know, I just forget.

> Consultant Mia

How can you possibly forget to eat? Do you not feel the hunger in your stomach?

> Captain Morgan

I mean, not a lot, no. I always have something to do, mostly controlling my apeshit crazy cadets, but I genuinely just forget to eat. I don't even feel hungry, it's not like I do this on purpose.

> Captain Morgan

No. It's not on purpose. I promise you.

> Consultant Mia

Alright then. Well, you know we won't stop until we see improvement from you. If you want us to leave you alone, you need to start taking better care of yourself. This isn't the last we'll speak.

Note: Mr. Morgan's brother was murdered by a knife-wielder on 27/08/████, where the accused was prosecuted with a 4 year sentence in a Crown Court due to corruption and nepotism. Joint operation between Surface Operations Personnel and Site Security. Objective to recapture a compromised Nu7 Major and stolen anomalous objects from within their Operations Base. The operation ended with heavy casualties from both SOP and GSD Staff, but was ultimately successful and resulted in the capture of the Nu7 major and multiple anomalous objects.

Morgan. GSD Staff entered Inner-Dblock in order to subdue overly violent inmates and calm the crowd. After 30 minutes, with the use of crowd control equipment such as tear gas, the original leader and instigators were detained, and the riot dispersed.

Departmental Projects

and cooperation, over implementing stricter security measures. As made evident with the previous 'Project Voice'.

Behaviour Towards the FLC: Mr. Morgan has had a few negative run-ins with the FLC and Internal Security Department, although for minor incidents such as drinking alcohol on-duty, nothing of significance. If alcohol becomes a problem for Mr. Morgan, then it will become of much more significance.

Foundation Contact

Date: 01/06/██████████

Location: HMP Wakefield

Personnel Involved: MTF Eta-10, Dept. of External Affairs

Reason: Anomalous Encounter

Incident Summary:

- On the 11th of June, 20:30, HMP Wakefield experienced an uncalled for power outage due to a bolt of lightning striking the electrical circuit from a thunderstorm outside.
- The power surge caused a power outage within the prison and surrounding civilian area, leaving the place in darkness with the already set sun.

CONFIDENTIAL

T]

- 15 minutes into the power outage, the inmates of HMP Wakefield began to get unruly and contempt with the sudden darkness. A bloodcurdling scream was heard from within a cell, but was played off as shenanigans from unruly inmates.
- 5 minutes later, again, another scream was heard and echoed in the halls. Custodial officers investigated, and were horrified to discover an inmate with his torso completely detached from his upper body.
- The prison was placed on an artificial lockdown by custodial officers, and it was deduced the murder must have been from a foreign intruder since all the inmates were still locked in their cells.
- Patrols were conducted across the prison in pairs of two. A loud shriek of nonsense crackled into the radio frequency, describing a 'black monster without legs' and 'white eyes' before radio silence. The pair was found 10 minutes later, both mutilated and grotesque.
- SCP Foundation Site-34 eventually intercepted outgoing communications from HMP Wakefield to neighbouring authorities, matching the description of SCP-280.
- MTF Eta-10 and DEA agents were swiftly deployed to the prison, and worked on recontainment & amnestication efforts. However, a single custodial officer proved impressive in handling the situation.

Recruitment Interview - M.Morgan

The following is the transcript of an interview held between Mr. Morgan and DEA Special Agent █████ regarding potential employment.

> DEA Special Agent *****

Mr. Morgan, is it?

> Mr. Morgan

Yeah, that's me. Who are you?

> DEA Special Agent *****

That's not of your concern at the moment.

> Mr. Morgan

Alright...well I'm guessing your here because of that weird fucking ghost shit. You the government?

> DEA Special Agent *****

Again, not your concern, but yes. I'm here regarding the 'ghost shit'.

> Mr. Morgan

Yeah, so, what the fuck was that?

> DEA Special Agent *****

Well, as we know it, that is SCP-280. It's an aggressive entity with two very long and thin hands, no legs, it's a mass that retreats when it comes into contact with ligh-

> Mr. Morgan

Hold on, so what the fucks an SCP first of all?

> DEA Special Agent *****

If you would let me FINISH, Mr. Morgan. As I was saying, it retreats when it comes into contact with light, but you already know that don't you? My field operatives observed you combating the entity with your flashlight. How did you figure that out?

> Mr. Morgan

I mean, it was pitch-black so I pulled out my flashlight. I see this weird-as-shit black monster coming towards me and I shine my light on it, and it starts to back off. So obviously I realised the thing doesn't like light.

> DEA Special Agent *****

Mhm, quite clever, Mr. Morgan.

[G E N E R A L S E C U R I T Y D E P A R T M E N

> Mr. Morgan

Alright, yeah. Again, the fucks an 'SCP'?

> DEA Special Agent *****

I'll just cut it short. I'm an agent from the 'SCP Foundation'. We specialise in securing, containing, and protecting, as the name implies, but with anomalous and supernatural entities. What you witnessed earlier today was one of those uncontained anomalies, but don't worry, it has since been dealt with.

> Mr. Morgan

Are you taking the piss?

> DEA Special Agent *****

I assure you I'm not, Mr. Morgan. Frankly, the only reason I'm actually talking to you and I didn't just wipe your memory on the spot is because we saw potential in you and how you handled that situation. So I'll cut you a deal.

> DEA Special Agent *****

Seeing as you've been a custodial officer for, what, 5 years now. You must be pretty good with inmates. That would make you a perfect addition to our Site' Security. You have all the necessary requirements.

> DEA Special Agent *****

So, here's the deal, Morgan. Either you accept this invitation to join our ranks of the Foundation and become a part of the Security department, or just deny it. But we'll take your memory of this with it of course. What will it be, Morgan?

> Mr. Morgan

Mr. Morgan. Will you accept, or will you deny?

> Mr. Morgan

I mean, I guess I'll accept? Anything beats this dead town.

> DEA Special Agent *****

Excellent choice. We will reach out to you in the following days regarding your recruitment and training process. You will join the staff of Site-34, here in the Midlands. I look forward to working with you soon, Mr. Morgan.

> DEA Special Agent *****

Oh, and also, don't tell anyone about the events of tonight, because, trust me.

> DEA Special Agent *****

We'll know...
