This year, Catholics around the world will honor the fifth anniversary of Laudato Si' during Laudato Si' Week.

Laudato Si' is Pope Francis' milestone teaching on integral ecology.

Pope Francis has invited Catholics everywhere to participate in this transformative week-long initiative. The Holy Father's invitation is available in a short video here.

As a leading partner in this global project, we encourage you to register your participation in Laudato Si' Week now.

Laudato Si' Week Focus

The consequences of the coronavirus pandemic have reshaped the world for millions of people.

We're blessed that Laudato Si' teaches us how to build a better world—together.

The lesson of Laudato Si' is that "everything is connected," and now more than ever we see that the way we treat each other and honor our Creator go hand-in-hand.

During Laudato Si' Week, we're growing through the crisis of the current moment. We're reflecting and preparing together for a more just and sustainable future. Join the Catholic family in this global moment of solidarity by registering here.

Laudato Si' Week is one step in a year-long journey. Preparation will be put into action during the Season of Creation, which Pope Francis has invited Catholics to celebrate as a season of prayer and action for our common home.

Important dates

Trainings and workshops during the week will lead up to a global day of prayer on 24 May, when Catholics around the world will join in solidarity by praying together at noon local time.

The Laudato Si' Week journey includes three key moments:

- Reflect and prepare through online trainings, 16-23 May
- Join the worldwide day of prayer, 24 May
- Put preparation into action during the Season of Creation, 1 September-4 October

The Vatican's Dicastery for Integral Human Development invites us to participate in Laudato Si' Week, 16-24 May. Join the global Catholic family by registering your participation here.
