Introduction

This guide is based on the The CSE Manual: Scientific Style and Format for Authors, Editors, and Publishers (9th edition, 2024). For more information and examples, see the CSE Manual (online).

Components of CSE style

The CSE Manual provides a choice of three different citation systems. This guide uses the Name-Year system, which includes two components: In-text references throughout your work and a reference list at the end of your work that gives full details about your cited sources.

In-text references

These guidelines will help you get started. For more detailed information, see the CSE Manual, section 29.2.

An in-text reference includes the author's last name and the year of publication. For example:
(Hofmann 2024)

In a sentence, it should be placed right after the word or phrase to which it refers. For example:
"Changes in the body during long-duration spaceflight (Lee et al 2020) can lead to ..."

To cite multiple works at once, list the works in chronological order, from earliest to most recent:

- Works by different authors: (Lange 2015; Hofmann 2024)
- Works by the same author(s) in different years: (Lange 2015, 2018)
- Works by the same author(s) in the same year: (Lange 2015a, 2015b). Add the same letters after the year in the reference list entries.

If a work has no publication date, instead put the phrase "date unknown" in square brackets in an in-text reference. For example:
(Davis [date unknown])

Author variations

To cite a work with two authors, include both authors' last names. For example:
(Bilgrami and Khan 2022)

For a work with three or more authors, include only the first author's last name, followed by the abbreviation "et al" (which means "and others"). For example:
(Hutchen et al 2024)

If the work is by an organization, use the name of the organization in the in-text citation. CSE recommends using an abbreviated organization name for in-text references. For example:
(WHO 2023)

If a work has no listed author, begin the in-text reference with the first word or first few words of the title (enough words to distinguish it from other titles in your references), followed by an ellipsis (see the CSE Manual, section 29.2.1.2.6). For example:
(Trees ... [date unknown])

Reference list entries

These guidelines will help you get started. For more detailed information, see the CSE Manual, section 29.3.

A reference list should include all of the information sources you cited in the text of your paper. Reference lists should have the heading "Cited References," "References," "Reference List," or “Literature Cited.” Sort reference list entries alphabetically. An Example reference list is at the end of this guide.

Each reference includes all of the information someone would need to look up an information source. References usually include the author, date, title, and publication details.

Author

Format all author names with the last name first, followed by the author’s initials. For example:
Hofmann AH.

If a work has between two and five authors, include all of their names, separated with commas. For example:

Hutchen J, Berseth V, Nguyen V.

If there are six or more authors, include the first author’s name, followed by “et al.” For example:

Rodriguez-Rafael ED et al. 2024.

If an organization is the author, include the abbreviated name you are using for in-text references, in square brackets, followed by the full name of the organization. For example:

[WHO] World Health Organization.

If a work has no author, start the reference with the title. For example:

Trees of Canada.

Date

The date tells the reader when the work was published or updated. Here are some guidelines for dates in end references:

- Use the year of publication when available. For example: 2023.
- If the publication year is uncertain or cannot be determined, use the copyright year, with a “c” ahead of it. For example: c2025.
- If no date is available, put the phrase “date unknown” in square brackets instead. For example: [date unknown].
- For online sources:
 - Use the date the information was last updated. For example: 2024 Jul 16.
 - If no date is given, use an access date instead. For example: [accessed 2024 May 11].

Title

Use these guidelines to format titles:

- For most titles, use sentence case: Capitalize only the first word in the title, along with any proper nouns.
- For journal, magazine, and newspaper titles, use title case: Capitalize all major words.

Journal titles are usually abbreviated. To find an abbreviation, search for the journal title in the following databases:

- CAS Source Index Search Tool
- Web of Science Journal Title Abbreviations
- Journal database at NCBI

If you cannot find the journal title in any of these databases, search for the root of each title word in the List of Title Word Abbreviations. Articles, conjunctions, and prepositions are omitted from abbreviated titles (CSE Manual, section 29.4.1.1).

Publication details

Publication details will vary depending on the type of source, but they may include:

- The volume and issue number of a journal
- Page numbers within a book or journal
- A digital object identifier (DOI) or other URL

CSE recommends including a URL (link) at the end of the reference for any work accessed online (CSE Manual, section 29.4.1).

- If the work has a digital object identifier (DOI), use that as the URL. You can create a stable URL by starting with <https://doi.org/> and then adding the DOI. Test the URL to make sure it works.
- If the work does not have a DOI, use another stable URL (sometimes labeled as a permalink or permanent link).

Reference templates and examples

This guide includes templates for references to different types of sources. Sometimes, a template might not exactly match the source you are citing. You can use it as a guide, and if you need more information or examples, check the CSE Manual or other citation resources.

Articles in journals, magazines, and newspapers

Template

Authors. Year of publication. Article title. Publication Title. Volume(issue):page numbers. DOI or other URL

Note: If a publication does not have volume or issue numbers, skip that part of the reference. For more information about citing articles, see the CSE Manual, section 29.4.1 and 29.4.1.10.

Journal article, print

Hutchen J, Berseth V, Nguyen V. 2024. Whose authority drives the narrative?: framing the spread of mountain pine beetle in Canadian news media. Environ Commun. 18(4):465–483.

Journal article, online

Davies J, Davies D. 2010. Origins and evolution of antibiotic resistance. Microbiol Mol Biol Rev. 74(3):417–433. <https://doi.org/10.1128/MMBR.00016-10>

Note: If an article number is given, use it instead of the page numbers. An article number usually starts with the word “Article” and then a series of numbers and sometimes letters (e.g., Article 162).

Magazine article

Koren M. 2024 Jul 17. The search for alien life starts on earth. The Atlantic.

Note: The CSE Manual does not mention magazine articles, but they may be cited similarly to journal or news articles. They usually do not include volume or issue numbers.
