

Local Mutual Aid/Community Resources to Share with Others, Support, and Use

Food & other goods

Clothing swaps (St. Mark's, community clothing swaps, Grace Lutheran's free clothes once a week)
Lorraine's Closet (one woman/family providing clothing, sheets, blankets, etc. for free to anyone): Phone number 737-343-0234, Facebook hashtag #LorrainesCloset
Diaper/feminine product pantry - St. Mark's Episcopal Church
Facebook Buy Nothing groups
Hays County Food Bank
Southside Community Center
Reuse warehouse (near City Hall – the building with the mural on the side)
*Central Texas Farmers' Co-Op - shares every season
*Farmers markets - San Marcos on the square, La Cima, Wake the Dead on Friday afternoons, New Braunfels (Note: Pick up farmers' business cards when you go!)
(Note: * means not free and possibly not cheap)

Health:

*Hill Country Women's Health Collective - <https://hcwhc.org/>
*Ask your local herbalists! - Herbs & Oddities, Gruene Witch in New Braunfels, others
*San Marcos Community Acupuncture ($30-$50 pay what you want)

Housing:

Tenants Advocacy Group - tenantsadvocacygroup@gmail.com
Volunteer Legal Services for Central Texas Residents
TRLA: Austin Tenants Council
Texas Housers
Texas Housers - Houser Academy
BASTA Austin
BR3T Housing Stability Services
Habitat for Humanity
H.O.M.E. Center of Central Texas
San Marcos Housing Authority
Southside Community Center
San Marcos Civics Club

Environment & Misc:

Sustainable San Marcos
Hays-Caldwell Women's Center
Mano Amiga (There is a new immigration-focused org springing up but I don't know much about it yet)
Sustainable San Marcos
San Marcos Greenbelt Alliance
San Marcos River Foundation
San Marcos Civics Club (Mentioned above, but a great resource for all things local)
The San Marcos Public Library/any public library
The Seed Library outside the San Marcos Public Library (for gardening/growing food)
Me (I have lots of books that might be, or become, hard to find – but you should check your library first!)