

Below are some of the archived/past events that EACC has offered:

2019 Fall Event Info:

EACC Callout

When: September 5 at 5:30

Where: Lily 3118

Who: EACC Leadership team and anyone interested in hearing more about EACC's upcoming events or getting more involved.

What: Come here the EACC leadership team's vision for the club this year, upcoming events, and how you can be involved. EACC will provide pizza.

Slides from Callout

Future Engineering Faculty and Professionals (FEFP) Workshop - Be a Competitive Candidate: Research 1 Universities

When: September 12 at 11:30-1:00pm OR 2:00-3:30pm

Who: Panel of external and Purdue faculty members

What: EACC is partnering with CoE for a panel discussion on what makes good candidates for academic positions in research intensive universities. Come with questions!

FEFP Workshop - Be a Competitive Candidate: Teaching Universities

When: October 15 at 11:30-1:00pm OR 2:00-3:30pm

Who: Panel of external faculty members

What: EACC is partnering with CoE for a panel discussion on what makes good candidates for academic positions in teaching focused universities. Bring your questions!

Demystifying Faculty Applications. Part 2: Interviewing and Negotiating

When: October 24 at 4:30-6:30pm

Who: Assistant Professor Chelsea Davis + panel

Where: BRWN

What: Come hear Purdue faculty discuss interviewing and negotiating for faculty positions!

FEFP Workshop - Be a Competitive Candidate: Obtaining a Post-Doc Position

When: November 5 at 11:30-1:00pm

Who: Panel of Purdue faculty members and post-docs

What: EACC is partnering with CoE for a panel discussion on what it takes to get a post-doc position.

Speed and Social Networking

When: Thursday, December 5 at 5:00-6:30 pm

Who: EACC Members

What: EACC is hosting a speed/social networking event to celebrate accomplishments, meet other graduate students interested in academia, and practice networking. Light snacks will be provided.

2019 Summer Event information:

Writing an Effective Research Statement

When: June 11th, 2019, 3-4pm (Workshop), followed by an optional writing/peer review session

Who: Audeen Fentiman

Where: WALC 1087

What: What types of information should be included in a research statement? What are search committee members looking for? Come learn how you can write an effective research statement! Bring a laptop and hang around after the presentation for a writing session. Whether you are just starting or have a fully drafted statement, you will take something away from this presentation!

Summer Mentoring Circle Pilot Program: Summer 2019

Each mentoring circle will consist of two Professors and 3-5 graduate students/postdocs. Mentoring circles will meet once a month from May to August.

Mentoring Circle Application(Graduate Students and Postdocs) CLOSED

Mentor Survey(Professors) CLOSED

Mentoring circles participants - be on the look out for an end of summer celebration invitation and participant survey!

ENE Resources for Future Faculty

When: August 8 3-4pm

Who: Prof. Audeen Fentiman

Where: PGSC

What: Learn about ENE resources that may be perfect for you! Whether you have one semester left or are just starting to explore academic careers. This session will highlight the opportunities that exist for you in ENE!

RSVP at: <https://tinyurl.com/yy4adk54>

2019 Spring Event information:

Workshop on “Writing a Teaching Statement” with Prof. Michael C. Loui

When: February 20th, 2019 5:30-7pm

Where: STEW 320

What: Teaching statements are an integral part of any faculty application, but typically graduate students have little experience with this type of writing. Bring a laptop and learn how to write yours! Pizza will be provided.

Presentation on “Unraveling the Mysteries of Faculty Applications” with Assistant Prof. Mike Titus

When: March 22nd, 2019 4-5:30pm

What: Overview of the faculty application process, differences between R1 and teaching faculty positions, as well as a breakdown of finding jobs and applying. With insight and Panel Discussion from new College of Engineering tenure-track faculty!

For a copy of the slides from this event, please go to this webpage.

Future Engineering Faculty and Professionals (FEFP) Workshop on “Mentoring Graduate Students”

When: April 2nd, 2019 2-3:30pm

Where: PGSC

What: Find out what it takes to be a great mentor! The EACC will partner with this CoE Workshop/Panel, including informal coffee break with 2018 Outstanding Faculty Mentors of Graduate Students to follow (3:30-4pm). Check out some resources from this event, including Mentoring Best Practices, Notes, and Q&A with the Panel!