

Prussian shows off his Rosary Beads during the speech

It's a cool evening in Louisville when A_Cool_Prussian arrives at the KFC Yum! Center to give his speech

Prussian steps out on stage to the cheering of almost 9,000 supporters

“Good evening Louisville! It's great to be here tonight!”

The crowd cheers

“My God what a turnout. Ladies and gentlemen, what we see right now is the system being flipped on its head. Thousands of people around this country are waking up to the lies that the Guilty Administration has fed to us all. Believe me I was fed the same lies as you, but I was able to wake up and see the reality for what the Guildy Administration really is, one that doesn't serve the people of this state. Instead it has empty cabinet positions, less freedom of speech, and raised taxes. Do we really want to continue this horrible nightmare we're in? 'NO!' the crowd yells Then let's change it for the sake of this country! That's why I'm running for the House, I'm running to help this country wake up from the nightmare that it's in!

The crowd cheers

"Now as I talk about our states issues, I think it's important to know just how lucky we are to be born in this country. Even if I disagree with the way our nation is being run it's undeniable to say that it took an act of God to be born here and we should be proud of it. That's why I always bring this with me Prussian pulls out his personal Rosary Beads just to remind myself how lucky and how thankful I should be to be born in this country."

"Now the first issue I think we should discuss and is very close to the people of this region especially, is the Second Amendment. Now I don't know about you but seeing these recent attacks on our second amendment rights is just infuriating. Time after time we see the Socialists, Democrats, and Bull Moose Party go after our guns. Guns don't kill people, people kill people! Now of course it's sad when you have these national tragedies that involve guns happen. However, it has something more to do with a person's mental condition than it does the gun. That's why if elected to the House I will work with the Health Committee on fixing our country's lacking mental health infrastructure. It is sad to see these people not get the help they need and deserve, and it gives our nation a bad reputation. You look at countries in Europe and you can see their expansive mental health program which helps their people. That's something we should shoot for and is what I would shoot for."

"The second issue which I want to speak about is abortion. Now I can understand both sides of the argument. I personally believe that abortion is morally wrong and do not support it whatsoever. That's why I will push to limit abortion at most levels, however I do support it in the events of emergency such as if the mother's life is in danger. Abortion should be a bipartisan discussion no one side should control it all. As I say to myself, bipartisanship above all. Working with all American's is something that I value and would bring it to Congress if elected."

"The last issue I want to talk about is education in this country. Education is a God given right. However, our current education system is too rigorous and doesn't benefit the youth at all. Instead of actually providing an education, the federal and state government instead prioritizes that the student should just focus on passing his or her final test. That needs to change. That's why if elected I will work to end homework and testing. Studies have shown that it is ineffective in actually helping students learn, instead it increases stress and doesn't teach them anything. Well except that you have a 25% chance of getting a question right. The audience laughs But folks, I'm running not just for adults, but for the future of our nation's children who need as much assistance they can get in order to ensure that they are able to be successful in the future."

The audience cheers

"One last thing I want to mention tonight is the Socialist party of this nation. Recently they published a national event where they said the 'USSR was blessed.' This is truly disgusting and not true. All we have to do is look at history to know that the USSR was one of the most evil empires to exist, one that imprisoned its own citizens for criticizing its government, put dissidence in hard labour camps, and even took to killing anyone that it deemed not a follower of the Communist ideology. That's why I want to take this moment to call on the Chairman of the Bull Moose Party, BlockDenied, to denounce what the Socialists said and call the Socialist Party for what it really is. An anti-American party that seeks to essentially destroy the American way of life. Folks I think we know who we're up against. We can vote for someone who is endorsed by a party that endorses an ideology that killed millions or someone who will stand up for your values. I think we all know what we want, we want the latter! Thank you and God bless you all!"
