

Thank you so much for joining our community chat! We've provided these questions to help start the discussion.

Use the code at the bottom of this page to recommend books for our LibGuide!

Discussion Questions

1. What elements do you think define the romantasy genre and why is this genre having a moment?
2. What are your favorite or top titles and series? Are you more about Fourth Wing, ACOTAR, or something else? We will create a LibGuide of the best romantasy books to share with our community after the chat.
3. What are your go-to secondary sources for romantasy: podcasts, Booktok and Insta accounts, subreddits, websites, bookstores, and beyond?
4. Fated mates, nineteen-year-olds becoming high ladies, werewolves and vampires living together?? At what point does the story become too incredible?
5. What is it about romantasy that you're not getting from historical romance or other romance genres? For example: trauma healing, value of escapism, etc.
6. Romance vs fantasy: how important is world building in romantsy books? Which authors do it particularly well?

bit.ly/4i038H9