Hey man. I was taking a look at your profile and I saw you offer meal plans and an anabolic online shop. Do you have a website ?

I see. I tried clicking the link to VIP fitness in your bio, but nothing loaded, so that's just why I was asking. Do you have anywhere I can look at what your coaching, meal plans or programs include? Or do I just chat to you.

Well Aaron, I do digital marketing, and the reason I reached out is because I noticed you don't have any sales or info pages for your products, which would really help you get more online sales. I don't want to waste either of our time, so I'd love to create a draft sales page for your workout programs for free to show you what exactly I do and can do for you, and if you like it we can hop on a call and talk business? I am certain that what I have to offer would be invaluable for your online revenue going forwards.
