

(OWA Intro Plays...)

(We begin with an opening animation of The Fox Sports arena, showcasing two Fox Bots doing battle in Wolvesden-inspired gear. Fox Bot #1 nails The Killing Joke in tribute to Kenny Drake, setting off fireworks in the arena.)

Narrator: This is OWA Atlantis.....ON FOX SPORTS ONE!

(We flash transition into our building for this weekend as it is a dramatic change of pace from the OWA Arena! Instead we are in the Spokane Arena, scaled down from what will presumably a much more lively set for Olympus the following day. The gritty vibe of the OWA Arena is maintained as the lights are dimmed and darker colors are used around the ring, but there is a huge increase in fans as we see thousands in the wings rather than the usual tight knit group of OWA faithful. It is thunderous as Tex and Dex take over the commentary.)

Dex: HELLO EVERYONE AND WELCOME TO OWA ATLANTIS AS WE BRING TO YOU OUR FIRST SHOW ON THE ROAD AND THE FIRST SHOW OF 2021! Happy New Years to you all and hopefully your Holidays were well! It was a tough time for us in OWA as we saw goodbye to a legend in Kenny Drake at Civil War, but we hope to celebrate his life with a hell of a weekend of shows beginning tonight!

Tex: We've got Jonetta Stone and Maelstrom on the lineup, Flaherty and Hampton against close Wolvesden allies Diantha Rosso and Dulce Torres! And we'll hopefully see those scumbags Ashes of the Wake be given some justice by NEW Goddess Champion Rebecca Brookes along with Hana Nakajima!

Dex: And our opening bout of the evening is...a "Prison Yard Rules" match? Whatever that is, Oliver Harpe and Samuel Ogden have been at each other's throats since Ogden's arrival here in OWA. And here on Atlantis, they settle their score once and for all!

Tex: That's right Dex, expect some hard hitting brutality in this one! These two hate each other's guts, and that won't be changing anytime soon! Ogden's seemed to have Harpe's number, but that could change right here. Harpe certainly knows a lot about prisons...but let's go down to the ring!...or...prison. You know what I mean.

The camera opens up to Oliver Harpe and Samuel Ogden staring each other down in the prison courtyard. A nervous referee keeps them apart and signals to a makeshift timekeepers area to start the match.

DING DING DING!

Harpe immediately runs at Ogden looking for a lariat, but he easily sidesteps him and shoves him into the chain link fence. Ogden stomps his head into the fence before taking a running start and crushing Harpe's head into the fence with a Yazuka Kick! He takes a long look at the downed Harpe before leaving him there, choosing to enter the prison and forcing Harpe to follow him. Harpe slowly finds his way back to his feet, still holding his head. He stumbles after Ogden who walks leisurely across the courtyard and towards the door to enter the prison. Ogden opens the door and takes a look back at Harpe, his face showing no emotion as he almost mockingly invites him inside as he holds open the door and stares, waiting for Harpe to catch up. Harpe lunges at Ogden again, but gets the door slammed on his fingers! Ogden picks him up and drops him with a Snap Suplex! Ogden makes a cover!

ONE...TW-

But Harpe still has some fight in him and kicks out. Ogden continues on the attack, picking up Harpe and dragging him deeper into the prison as the door slams shut behind them. He whips Harpe into a wall and positions him in the doorway of a cell. He keeps him there with a flurry of punches to the upper body and continues working on the head, slamming the cell door repeatedly on Harpe's head until he manages to pull his entire body fully into the cell. Still writhing in pain, Harpe uses the door to pull himself up, but Ogden is right behind him, sending him reeling with a forearm smash and driving him into the concrete wall with an Irish Whip. He forces Harpe to lie facedown on the cold floor and stomps his nose into the unforgiving concrete. Blood begins to leak from Harpe's nose as Ogden leaves him again, exiting the cell and gesturing for him to follow. Harpe manages to get to his feet, but is smarter this time. Instead of following right away, Harpe searches the room for a weapon to use against the man who's been dominating him throughout the match. He dismantles the bed in the cell, grabbing a bedpost and goes on the hunt for Ogden. He enters a cafeteria and is jumped by Ogden. Ogden goes for a lariat, but this time it's ducked by Harpe who nails Ogden in the gut with the bedpost. Ogden appears to feel no pain and stares down Harpe who hits him again to the same result. Harpe backs away, but is grabbed by the arm and pulled into the Sonnet 33 (End of Days)! Ogden into a cover!

ONE...TWO...THRE-

But Ogden yanks Harpe's shoulder up, seemingly unsatisfied with the amount of punishment he's dished out. He stands and pulls Harpe to his feet again. Harpe manages to get some separation with a flurry of punches to the gut followed up by a headbutt. Again, Ogden only seems to be irritated and goes for a running DDT. Harpe gets out of the way and makes a tactical retreat, leaving Ogden staring after him. He escapes through a door and finds himself in a kitchen. He uses the time he has alone to recover, but he looks at his reflection through a pot to see Ogden looming behind him. Harpe backs away to find himself with nowhere to go, and is scooped up by Ogden and planted with a standing Jabberwocky (Tour of the Islands Slam) onto a kitchen counter! Again, Ogden chooses not to cover and instead leaves the room again for Harpe to eventually follow. Harpe is unresponsive for two minutes before coming to his senses and rolling off the counter slowly. He follows a trail of open doors, limping up a staircase and comes to the roof where Ogden is waiting. Ogden runs in for a clothesline, but stumbles back in surprise, showing his first real emotions of the match when Harpe pulls a knife from the kitchen out from his back pocket! Ogden takes a moment and realizes that Harpe is running on fumes.

Harpe takes a lazy jab, but Ogden easily moves out of the way and wrenches Harpe's arm behind his back. The knife goes flying off the rooftop and both men are unarmed. Harpe counters with a back elbow and gets free. He sees that Ogden is dazed and rolls him up!

ONE...T-

But it's nowhere close, and Harpe starts to realize that he doesn't have a chance. Ogden springs back to his feet and starts whaling into Harpe with strikes. Harpe backs away and almost falls off the roof, but Ogden pulls him back and puts him down with a Ripcord Clothesline. He drags him back to his feet and puts him in position for the Ode of Victory (Razor's Edge). Harpe tries to fight out of it, but he's too weak! Ogden throws Harpe off the roof with the Ode to Victory! Ogden looks down to see Harpe lying unconscious with his neck at an awkward angle as a horrified referee looks on. Ogden allows himself a small smile before descending down the fire escape and covering a limp Harpe with his foot.

ONE...TWO...THREE!!!

DING DING DING!

Dex: What...did I just witness? Did Samuel Ogden just murder a man?

Tex: Harpe doesn't even look alive! Someone's gotta call 911! Either way, we'll be right back with more Atlantis action!

(COMMERCIAL BREAK)

(We return to ringside as Jonetta Stone and Maelstrom are standing by with Llorona and Moongoose McQueen in their respective corners.)

Dex: This is a dream match people never knew they wanted as we have the two heavy hitters of teams that went to BATTLE at Civil War - Jonetta for the Demo Corps and Maelstrom for Shin-SEKAI! With that and the two evil masterminds they both have in their corners, this match should be CRAZY!

MATCH TWO: Jonetta Stone w/Llorona vs. Maelstrom w/Moongoose McQueen

The bell rings and they go at it. Maelstrom takes control early on, taking Jonetta down with a shoulder block. Jonetta kips up from it and then throws a punch but Maelstrom catches it and begins to weigh down on her with a greco roman style lock. Jonetta looks to break it but Maelstrom keeps it locked in and tries for a quick pin attempt, bearing down on her until she's on her back. Jonetta fights up and out, rocking Maelstrom in the jaw. Jonetta knocks Maelstrom into the corner and unloads now, beating him down and stomping away. Jonetta chops Maelstrom. Jonetta grabs Maelstrom's hand, but Maelstrom counters and whips Jonetta hard across the ring! Maelstrom goes for a spear but Jonetta moves out of the way as Maelstrom eats it on the middle turnbuckle! As Maelstrom gets settled, Jonetta then clotheslines him and follows it up with a bulldog! She gets on top of him for a 1 count which sees her flying off of him!

Jonetta looks to keep control with a low aimed dropkick! She grounds Maelstrom now, but Maelstrom isn't one to stay down! He pops her into the air and lets her crash into the canvas! Then hits the ropes for a back splash! Jonetta has to be pulled out of the ring by Llorona to stall! Jonetta takes some time to reset and then returns to the ring. More back and forth between the two. Jonetta drops Maelstrom over the top rope with a hangman and then grips the ropes, launching herself at Maelstrom with a crossbody! Moongoose slams his hands on the canvas as he demands Maelstrom get his head back in the game! Maelstrom grabs Jonetta and nearly tosses her over the top rope! Jonetta gets on the apron to save herself! Maelstrom then levels Jonetta with a big right hand, knocking her from the apron to the floor near Llorona. Maelstrom stands tall in the ring as Jonetta makes use of the ref's count.

Moongoose watches as Maelstrom takes Jonetta to the top turnbuckle. Maelstrom works Jonetta over, uppercutting her and delivering hard headbutts. Jonetta fights back now and stays on him with right hands. Jonetta tries to reposition for a superplex but Maelstrom slides under her and drops her face-first into the top turnbuckle. Maelstrom runs into a big boot in the corner. They trade shots out of the corner now.

Jonetta with a big boot and a knee to the gut. Maelstrom keeps the punches coming. Maelstrom with a big sitdown chokeslam for a close 2 count. Jonetta with a neckbreaker reversing out of a suplex! Jonetta shows some frustration now. Jonetta stomps while Maelstrom is down. Jonetta goes to the top but Maelstrom rolls to the other side of the ring. Jonetta comes down and follows but Maelstrom kicks her in the head. Maelstrom goes to the top rope but Jonetta blocks the leaping lariat with a big knee to the face in mid-air. Maelstrom still kicks out at 2 and Jonetta can't believe it.

Jonetta goes to the corner and undoes the turnbuckle! The referee admonishes her for it and goes to take care of the turnbuckle as Jonetta unties another turnbuckle to take up more time! While the ref deals with those two turnbuckles, Llorona digs through her pocket and looks to pass Jonetta a switchblade! Llorona goes to pass it, but Moongoose shoves her down! Punch to Jonetta too to stun her! He's going through his pocket now! MOONGOOSE HAS A FLASHBANG IN HAND! Goose looks to use the flashbang as Revy then comes running down the aisle and asks for him to drop it!

Goose insists that he follows through as Goose reaches for it -- Llorona then kicks it out of his hand! It goes flying as Jonetta unpins it and lets it roll! FLASHBANG GOES OFF IN THE RING AS JONETTA TURNS AWAY! LLORONA WITH A PUSH TO GOOSE INTO THE RING POST WHILE JONETTA RUNS AT THE BLINDED MAELSTROM FOR THE CROSS CHECK AND THE COVER!

WINNER: Jonetta Stone by pinfall @ 11:32

Tex: Jonetta does not miss! Another win for the girl as she continues a career making run that kicked off since she helped found the Demo Corps! Revy might be torn up though as you know Goose might not be too happy with her leaving her family hanging!

(Moongoose McQueen looks at Revy and Maelstrom, stunned at the development and shaking his head.)

Moongoose McQueen: (w/o mic) This is not what I want to see. Not at all. If you two want to keep being in my company, especially in this next phase, you're going to need to get with the program!

(Moongoose storms off as we fade from the scene.)

(COMMERCIAL BREAK)

(We return to ringside.)

Dex: Up next we have two teams who both could use a bounce back from Civil War! Dulce and Diantha fell to the Demo Corps in a bloody affair at Lethal Lockdown, and Elijah Hampton's camp isn't too happy after his Openweight Championship loss, especially when he was telling everyone that'd listen that he was taking home the belt! Both of these sides could use the morale boost so this should be a highly competitive contest!

MATCH THREE: Hampton & Flaherty vs. Dulce Torres and Diantha Rosso

Dulce and Flaherty go at it to start. Flaherty comes in aggressive, but Dulce is wise enough to keep her distance. Flaherty eventually closes the gap and engages. Diantha tags in and jumps on Flaherty's back with a Sleeper but she ends up launched to the mat and clubbed. Flaherty takes it to their corner and in comes Hampton. Hampton unloads on Diantha in the corner, beating her down to boos.

Hampton keeps Diantha down in the corner and in comes Flaherty to take over. Roy Bandini watches from ringside, though he seems to be concerned with the buzzing of his phone. Flaherty drops Diantha for a 2 count. Diantha crawls for a tag but Flaherty stops her. Diantha gets up and starts kicking Flaherty. Flaherty catches a kick but Diantha enzuigiris him into the corner. Dulce tags in and goes at it with Flaherty. Dulce with a monkey flip and a flying forearm, then the low dropkick for a splash and a 2 count.

Dulce and Diantha double team Flaherty now as Dulce hits a tornado DDT from the corner. Flaherty gets dropped as Hampton comes in. They double team Hampton in the middle of the ring with an assisted Flapjack. Hampton rolls to the floor to regroup with Flaherty. Dulce kicks Flaherty through the ropes and Diantha nails a big kick to Hampton from the apron. Diantha and Dulce yell out and stand tall together as fans cheer them on.

Hampton and Flaherty look to go over their plan with Roy Bandini as he gives some advice, and again is being annoyed by the nagging sound of his phone buzzing, choosing to take it out of his pocket. His eyes light up as he tells his team to get back to it! After Hampton gains an advantage he tags out. Dulce is trading shots with Flaherty in the ring. Flaherty runs into an elbow in the corner. Dulce goes to the top but Flaherty knocks her to the floor. Dulce lands hard and bounces off the steel ring steps. Diantha checks on Dulce and has words with Bandini, who is laughing at Dulce while excitedly speaking on the phone. Dulce is slow to recover at ringside as the referee counts.

Dulce rolls back in just in time. Flaherty stops her from tagging and works on snapping the arm. Flaherty grounds Dulce and tags in Hampton to take over. Hampton works on the arm and covers for a 2 count, and another. Dulce fights up and out but Hampton nails a jawbreaker. Hampton stands over Dulce and brushes the sole of her boot across her face to boos from the crowd. Dulce kicks out at 2.

Hampton mounts Dulce with right hands as the referee warns him. Hampton whips Dulce into the corner and wastes some time, missing the running big boot. Dulce goes to the top and hits a hurricanrana for a pop. Diantha rallies for Dulce now. Diantha tags in and unloads on Hampton with strikes. Diantha drops Hampton with a kick, then kips up. Diantha with running forearms in the corner. Cedric with a distraction from the apron. Diantha still slams Hampton and hits the Exploder, shocking the crowd!. Diantha goes on and hits a German suplex with a bridge but Flaherty runs in and breaks the pin up.

Flaherty comes back in and drops Diantha with a lariat in the middle of the ring. Flaherty goes for the big stalling suplex but Diantha fights out with a knee to the head. Dulce fights off Flaherty in the corner and tags in. Diantha with a pump kick to Flaherty. Diantha runs and leaps off Dulce's back, flying out to take down Flaherty and Hampton on the floor. Hampton and Flaherty get up yelling at each other, upset over how things are falling apart and blaming the other while looking to Roy to throw in his two cents. Roy is too caught up in his phonecall however as Dulce goes for a suicide dive on Hampton! Diantha then dropkicks Flaherty and helps him into the ring as Dulce goes to wrap things up. BIRTH OF VENUS! ONE. TWO. THREE!

WINNERS: Dulce Torres and Diantha Rosso by pinfall

(Dulce and Diantha meet up at the bottom of the ramp, high fiving and hugging as they celebrate their victory.)

Dex: It was a hard ending for 2020, but 2021 gives some optimism for the pillars of Odyssey as Dulce and Diantha come through with a bounce back win against a team that is no-joke in Flaherty and Hampton!

Tex: Them boys made it a task and a half for them. Just WHO has Roy been talking to? He's been chattering on that phone this whole match and Flaherty and Hampton aren't having it!

Elijah Hampton: (w/o mic) Really, Roy!? First match of 2021, my big chance at a comeback, and you can't even pay attention to it? You leave me to strategize with this bozo!? You better have a damn good excuse! Who the hell are you talking to!?

Roy Bandini: (w/o mic) I'll put you on...

(Roy Bandini puts the phone to Elijah's ear as Elijah's expression softens after a few seconds. He smiles as he listens to the other end. Flaherty is curious as Elijah whispers into his ear.)

Shea Flaherty: Work with HIM? This weekend?

Elijah Hampton: Mhm.

(Flaherty and Hampton nod, giving Roy the go-ahead as he keeps speaking on the phone.)

Roy Bandini:....They'll consider the offer for sure! Yeah!

(As Roy Bandini finishes the conversation, the trio stay together, quietly gesturing to themselves while they exit the ring with renewed spirits.)

(FINAL COMMERCIAL BREAK)

(We return from ringside as the entire ringside area has been locked down with security and police officers standing by as protection with the presence of Knight and Maverick at ringside. Fans are throwing trash into the squared circle and yelling obscenities as several OWA officials try to control the environment.)

Tex: There they are....Maverick and Jacob Knight.

Dex: Those SONS of bitches representing The Ashes of the Wake making their first appearance since the atrocity that happened to Kenny Drake. You'd think the President was here with the amount of people rolled out to keep them safe. The whole world right now would love to tear them limb from limb, but hopefully we can rely on Rebecca and Hana to do it for us in our main event tonight!

MATCH FOUR: The Ashes of The Wake vs. Rebecca Brookes and Hana Nakajima

Jacob Knight starts off with Rebecca Brookes. They run the ropes and Rebecca nails an enziguri. Rebecca with more offense and a quick 2 count. Jacob retreats to the floor for a breather as Maverick shouts at him to get back into the ring.

Jacob enters the ring with a renewed focus, applying pressure to Rebecca as he takes a moment to joke on Maverick, grabbing Rebecca and showing off her dazed state to him. That proves to cost him as Rebecca rams Jacob into the corner to turn it back around. Jacob counters Rebecca and drops her for a 2 count. Jacob tangles on the mat and jumps on Rebecca's back; stepping on her spine. Rebecca drops him and breaks free using her arm for a sweep of the leg. Maverick tags in and in comes Hana.

Hana comes off the top and unloads, surprising Maverick who barely had time to react! She has him flustered but is momentarily stunned as Maverick hits her with a superkick! He springboard at her, but she catches him with an inverted Atomic Drop. Hana with a dropkick for another pop from the crowd. They tangle and trade counters. Maverick with a forearm. Hana with an arm drag takedown and an armbar. Maverick powers out and goes for the Vanity Killer but it's countered. More back and forth on the mat now. Hana gets the arm bar applied but Maverick gets the bottom rope and breaks it.

More back and forth between Hana and Maverick. Hana runs and slams Maverick face-first. Hana kicks Maverick around. They get up and Hana delivers kicks while Maverick responds with chops. Maverick with a big right hand to the jaw. Jacob runs in to get in the way of Hana charging at Maverick in the corner. Fans boo as he shows off some, taunting Hana. Knight goes to Irish whip Hana but she switches it up on him! Maverick and Knight almost run into each other. Hana drops Maverick as Rebecca drops Jacob. The Odyssey girls use their opponents on each other. Brookes and Hana deliver moves in-stereo, then kick them to the floor.

Hana knocks Maverick back off the apron to the floor. Brookes runs the ropes and hits a suicide dive to Knight while Hana held the rope open for her and then splashes onto Maverick! "OWA!" chant starts up. Hana and Rebecca roll them back in. Hana goes to the top but Knight tosses her down right after pushing Rebecca off the apron. Hana comes back as Knight tags in and gestures for him and Maverick to use a five count to double team her. Maverick and Knight corner the injured Hana....but Maverick appears to be unwell. Maverick appears sickly as he sinks in the corner, needing to be checked on by the referee. Knight asks what's happening with him but has to turn his attention back to the match! Knight tries to attack Hana but gets countered and dropped into a victory roll for the pin!

WINNERS: Hana Nakajima and Rebecca Brookes by pinfall @ 10:22

Tex: The Ashes receive a small bit of get back thanks to the women of Odyssey!

Dex: Maverick and Knight almost had it, but it seems some type of issue is going on with Maverick that is still lingering. It doesn't seem like an injury! Maybe he's sick over his own actions!

Tex: Boy looks like he's seen a ghost with how fidgety he is!

(Jacob Knight approaches him angrily, asking what's going on.)

Jacob Knight: (w/o mic) What's the matter with you!?

Maverick: (w/o mic) He....he's here. With us. I can feel him. HE is here!

(Maverick gets up, sliding past Jacob Knight as he shakes away the shivers he's feeling. Maverick looks around as he goes up the ramp, talking to himself while his required security escort him to the back. Knight looks on in confusion as we fade away.)
