Getting rid of it without his knowledge will cause him great distress.

PERSONALITY

Likes: sweet & spicy food, cats, stormy/rainy weather, straight-forwardness, collecting accessories (especially earrings), cooking for others

General attitude:

Xaviell is a stern, cold person with a thing for using sarcasm. He is a man of a few words, does not talk/reach out unless talked to first. He prefers to stay off the spotlight, often working in shadows & does not engage much with the public & people in general. The angel hides an awkward, shy boy under his cold facade.

That inner child is easily frightened by new situations & making mistakes due to the pressure of his title as the God of Justice. The fear of making mistakes/failure causes him to avoid pursuing a more active, exciting life than his current one. He is hesitant to show appreciation or care towards his loved ones verbally & physically due to sudden lack of such type of affection from his parents when he was a teenager.

Xaviell resorts to showing his love to those he cares about through more subtle ways like acts of service.

Always attached to her hip, receiving the most attention from her through physical affection & being the taste tester of her little cooking experiments before being given to his father once he returns from work. His parents spoiled him, giving into his every want— even letting him scribble on their house walls with crayons from intricate art kits a young artist would get gifted on a special occasion & not paint over it. RELATIONSHIPS

RELATIONSHIPS

XENIA HUKKOMELSE

Sister

"Xenia.. We are quite close, I guess. We didn't talk much when we were kids due to a minor language barrier but it's not a problem now. My opinion on her? Oh. She needs to develop a spine. All of the 'friends' she ever had throughout her life suck. Especially that Yuki person, her latest user. Motherf*cker used her as a wallet to pay off their plane ticket back to Neorune. She is too nice for her own good."

"..."

"Uh.. Do you think she's hiding something or is it just me?"

TEVIEL DAEMON HELMER

Close friend/Mentor

Met when he was Teviel's high school student

"(Uncle) Teviel? He was a good teacher, I guess. He had a really iffy aura. Still does. Nowadays I respect him after that incident. Who wouldn't snap? He's a truly broken man, no doubt. I hope he finds his happiness.. Whatever it is."

ENYO MINVERA HELMER

Friend

Met through Teviel

"Scary lady. No wonder she & Teviel are related. At least one of the siblings is going to therapy."

YUKI ERIDIAN

Colleague

Met through a murder scene

"I don't know why Teviel hired them. They are not even suited for the job. Seriously. Oh well. They better not create more issues for me, when they already did to Xenia. She told me not to hold a grudge against them & let their treatment of her affect how I treat them if we met. Tough request."
