

Monologue #2 - Jordan

“Hey Will. hey. How’s it going?

How was your weekend? Mine was pretty fun actually. I actually saw this really interesting documentary about a woman in her nineties who was an actress but not a famous one and she loved hats for some reason and had hundreds and hundreds of hats.

It was actually really interesting.

Anyway, I’m writing because while I was there I saw a poster for a new documentary about the Franco-Prussian War and I remember you were reading that crazy long book about Pearl Harbor and I don’t actually know what the Franco-Prussian War was but it sounded kinda Pearl Harbor-esque so I thought I’d tell you about it. It’s playing at the Quad and it opens next week. We should check it out. Let me know if you’d be interested.

Later, Jordan.”
