About

Y Combinator created a new model for funding early stage startups.

Twice a year we invest a small amount of money (\$150k) in a large number of startups.

The startups move to Silicon Valley for 3 months, during which we work intensively with them to get the company into the best possible shape and refine their pitch to investors. Each cycle culminates in Demo Day, when the startups present their companies to a carefully selected, invite-

#3 You Can Have Money in 30 Days

#4 You Can Have Customers Forever

There are 2 kinds of campaigns:

#1 Campaign that raise money for you to provide better service:

Purchase New Equipment

Attend a Professional Seminar

#2 Campaigns that help the community; if you are professional writer, maybe:

Funds to Teach Writing Classes at Homeless Shelters

Funds to Raise Money for Homeless to Write

Fund to Teach Immigrants to Write Emails

Funds for a Campaign that Gets Seniors to Write Emails for Immigrants

Also, working together with a non-profit, you can use their social media contacts if you don't have many.

You now have something better to say to potential clients or on social media. It's not ...

“Hey, I’m in Business, Give Me Money.”

Instead it’s...

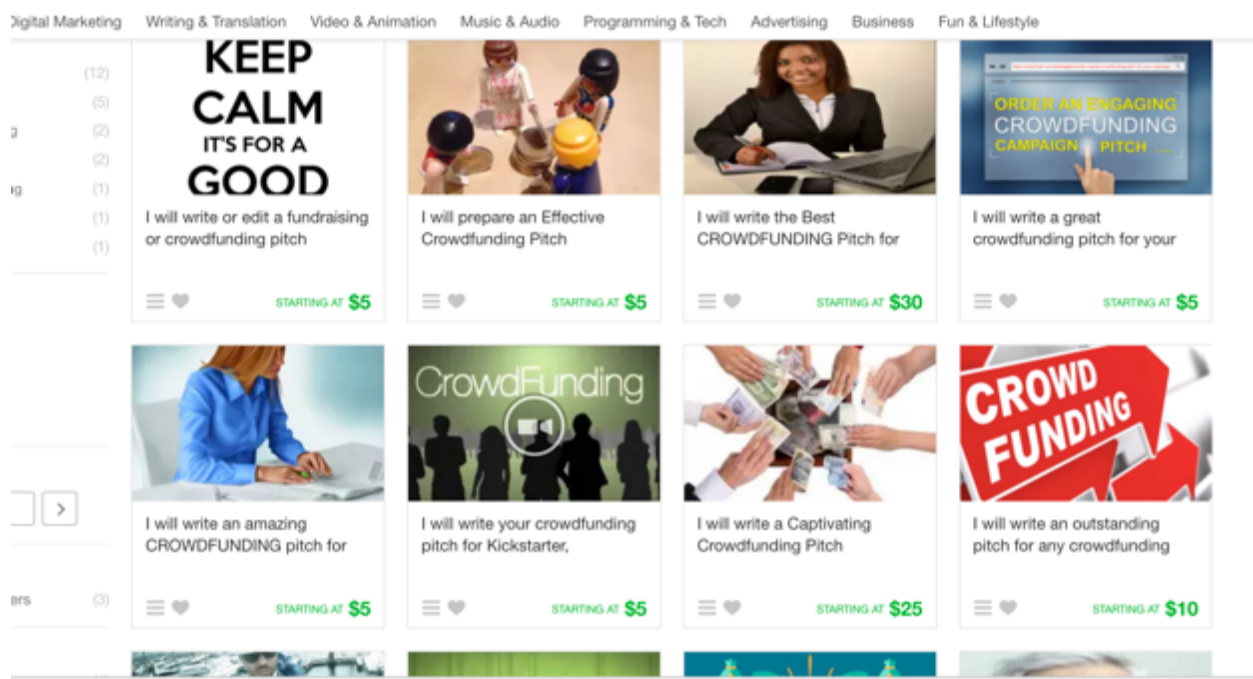

“Hey Look, I’m Doing a Cool Crowdfunding Campaign” or

“Hey, Let’s Help Some People Together.”

Also, every non-profit you contact as a possible partner can also turn into a potential sales call for your services.

How to Choose the Right Crowdfunding Platform

Crowdfunding is the biggest thing since Government Grants for anyone who is looking for money to create their own job or business or solve a financial problem. What's great about crowdfunding is that it requires no background, no credentials, no credit check, and even no money. All that's required is access to the internet.

Even Obama Used Crowdfunding
To Get Money Direct From American Taxpayers Instead of Asking Congress

https://youtu.be/_IV22k7NjOU

Crowdfunding started only a few years ago and there are estimates of over 1,000 different websites available. Using Google to try to find the best site for you will be like looking for a needle in a Google haystack. Google handles quantity not quality.

If you search for the word “Crowdfunding,” you will get 26 MILLION websites in your search results. If you search for “Best Crowdfunding Websites,” you get 3.5 MILLION websites and the first one on your list that is not someone trying to sell you something is an article that is 2 years old. That is ancient times in crowdfunding years.

Learn Website Details From Video Interviews of Crowdfunding Creators

These past few years, I've conducted over 700 video interviews with people who either used crowdfunding websites to raise money or created crowdfunding websites for you to use.

What I present here is my analysis of the best way to determine what are the best crowdfunding websites that will give you the most money.

You can also view the video interviews of the creators of those websites that you are most interested in.

This is certainly not the most definitive work on the subject but will give you the benefits of my years and 700 interviews in an easy to digest format.
