

Guessing the Gap, Part One

Step One: Read and take notes on each of these articles. The notes for each article should be at least half of a page in length (in any form most helpful to you). The notes should reflect not only specific observations and/or questions about the article in question but they should include speculations on the relationships in meaning between the articles (varying perspectives/lenses, similarities and differences) and speculations on a gap that could lead to original research.

<http://www.bbc.com/future/story/20151012-will-emoji-become-a-new-language>

<https://www.cnn.com/style/article/emoji-shigetaka-kurita-standards-manual/index.html>

<https://files.eric.ed.gov/fulltext/EJ1126897.pdf>

<https://newrepublic.com/article/118562/emoticons-effect-way-we-communicate-linguists-study-effects>

 The_Relationship_Between_Textisms_and_Formal_and_I.pdf

Your Name:

Your Notes (Make sure you label each article):

