

When i was young i wanted to be a famous rapper and i put everything i could in making music, but without Success.

I started working in a theme park called ASTROWORLD so i could at least earn some money, but i didn't really like my job.

I worked for 4 years in the theme park i've met my wife there her name is kylie.

I met her in my first years and now we are married and we have one daughter whose name is Stormi.

My life was very great and i didnt even think about music that often because I now had something more Important to me than music ; my family.

It was the 17th December 2017 17:56 me and my wife and daughter went shopping. I was 25 at the time. We were shopping when we suddenly heard screams behind us we quickly turned back and we saw a woman get shot. In panic we runned around and hid from the men with the gun who were robbing the store. Some time passes and the men took all the money and we were ready to go back to home when suddenly the men with the gun saw us and asked for more money we gave him all our money and expensive goods he told us that he will spare our lives only to shoot my wife, my daughter and me right after that.

I woke up in a hospital, I survived the robbery but my family didn't. I was alone and depressed. Every day I woke up and prayed to god to give me my family back. I just wanted everything to be back. my happiness, my family and even my job. I just wanted my normal life to be back again.

In 2018 I started recovering and I made friends with a talking parrot. I was happy again and I even started to record music again. I was more successful than before but not famous, but I carried on. One day I visited my wife and daughter's grave like I usually do on Sundays, but this time something was different. There was a weird fruit on my wife's tombstone. I took it to my home and investigated it. I thought it was fate so i ate the fruit. It tasted horrible, but on the next day I started getting superpowers, I turned into an Instrument. With this new power I started to get famous and I blew up in the following years. Sadly my parrot friend couldnt see my progress since he died of old age. And nowadays i am known as La Flame, the best rapper in the world.

2019 2nd March

Someone knocked on my door that day. It was a parrot, it was my parrot but he is a Zombie and he learned to beatbox from Master Zuria the Beatbox Master in the Zombie Land of Hell. My parrot friend told me that I should stop making music and start being a pirate. I agreed because I wanted to be free and there was no real Challenge in the music industry. So I bought a ship and set sail. I crossed the East Blue and I was on the Grand Line. It was fearsome many pirates died here. I decided to go further into the grand line. After 6 hours of sailing on the Grand Line some Pirates attacked me and my parrot. We had a fight that took 5 hours but I lost and in the end they blew my ship up and I passed out. I would have died because devil fruit users cant swim but i woke up somewhere in the south blue on the coast of an island. I Searched my parrot in the town and I asked the people from this town for help but nobody saw my parrot. I decided to sleep on the ground and when I woke up I saw my parrot sleeping next to me. We decided to talk to the people here. We found out that this was Baterilla Island on the east blue. We wanted to go back to our Hometown but we couldn't just

Cross the grand line without a ship so we stayed here. I was being searched by the marine and they found me. I was in prison for 3 months and my parrot was in prison for 1 month because of our low bounty. I trained everyday to be strong enough to go to the New World.

2019 15th July

I was free. I had a bounty of 0 and I was stronger than before because I trained everyday.

Daily Training Plan:

77x Push-Ups

77x Sit-Ups

77x Truck and Crunches

Plank 30 minutes no pause

2019 17th July

It was night I was eating Kebab when suddenly a man sat next to me and asked if I was interested in working for him. I said yes. He was a Blacksmith and his name was Birke. My job was to help him to forge Armor and weapons since he was 79 years old. So I stayed and helped him while I was living with him. We worked very hard, Me and my parrot. I forged the weapons and armor and my parrot brought me the materials. It was hard work because the weapons and the armor needed to be perfect.

2019 7th October

I had vacation for a week which I spent with the old brat. He did so much for me he had a father figure to me. In the vacation he told me that he used to be a big pirate and that he was in the New World and that he came back alive. I told him that I was also a pirate but that I had given up. He punched me in the face after that he told me that only weaklings give up. He forced me to work harder after that. I was working 17 hours a day so I could master forging.

2019 7th November

I had mastered forging and the old brat was proud of me. The old brat told me that I will now train with him so I can be a strong pirate. The training was hard. I was forced to do my daily exercises and I was forced to train fighting with a sword. Even though I called him an old brat he wasn't moving like an old brat at all he was fast and strong.

2021 1st May

I trained a lot with my old man and I think I improved a lot. I can finally control my devil fruit. It was time to say goodbye. None of us cried because we knew that we would meet again soon. That's it now it is time to set sail...

PARROT BACKSTORY 2018-2019

I died of old age but where am I now? Everything is dark, am I buried? I began going crazy when suddenly I saw a light in front of me. It was a woman saying " Follow me my child " so I followed that mysterious woman. "Let's see what your faith is, " she said and I fell down. It was a long flight but when I hit the ground i did not die but it still hurt. It was hot, actually it was burning hot. I was covered in fire and snakes. I was in pain. But then a man came and asked if i would want to go back as a Zombie i said yes. The man was master zuria the beatbox master. He said if i beat him in a beatbox duell i would be free so i challenged him from day to day while burning and suffering eternal pain.

It was hard but I trained and trained and I still was not close to beating him. My beat went like "Bskkk Tschika Bzzt Bzzt Bskkk Tschikita Tschikita Tzzk Tzzk" and his Beat went like "Trrrr diduu diii du du du diii du du du tsssss" . He shared me tricks and tips and I still lost. I thought I was just a normal parrot for a time when suddenly I beat him. So I was happy to see my owner again but he tricked me. I actually needed to get him a sacred demonic Hee Hoo Stone. It was buried in the deepest holes of hell and it was also getting hotter and hotter the deeper you went. But I really wanted to be back so I bossed up and did it. I felt immense pain but I did it. So I lay down on the flames and snakes and master zuria began the ritual. He sang a weird demonic song and runned in circles 777 times. And he did the same thing again but this time he did it in another place. And he also did it the third time. It took around 1 week because he was mad slow like for real i'm not even playing. So then after spinning like a beyblade he told me to eat the sacred demonic Hee Hoo Stone i did it and poof i was back in the real world. I was under dirt. I needed to fight myself out and when finally out i decided to go back to my beloved owner travis, travis scott.
