

Swintt strikes deal with Condor Gaming

Malta-based game provider Swintt continue to soar as they announce a partnership agreement with operator Condor Gaming.

The agreement outlines the distribution of Swintt's portfolio of over 50 games, including proprietary content such as Panda Warrior and the upcoming Everlasting Spins, as well as land-based classics from major European markets including Master of Books and Heart of Earth.

Condor Gaming operate the successful casino brands Rembrandt Casino, 24Bettle, Big5 Casino, Casino Sieger and b-Bets, which will all be making use of Swintt's extensive product portfolio including SwinttGamify and SwinttPlay-it-back.

David Flynn, CEO of Swintt commented on the partnership: "We are thrilled to announce this partnership agreement with Condor Gaming who have been a successful and growing operator for a number of years. Seeing our range of products including our localized content for major European markets available to their players is very exciting for us and we see a long fruitful partnership ahead of us."

Oliver de Bono, COO at Condor Gaming said: "Since first meeting Swintt we have found their portfolio of products very exciting and we are delighted to announce this partnership. Their diverse range of content and gamification tools aligns perfectly with our strategy while enabling great experiences for our players and anticipated growth in 2020."
