TASK 2: THE PRODUCT “WHY”

I created Living Room Side Hustle because I got tired of the same trap: people need extra money, they want to sell online, and then they’re told to “build a following” and post every day... while nothing comes back.

It feels like donating time to an algorithm. And on top of that, some platforms make you hit a follower number before you can even use key selling tools. That’s backwards.

This product exists for the person who has bills, clutter, and zero patience for the influencer grind. You already have inventory in your home. You just need a simple system to turn it into cash now, and a path to keep going if you want to turn it into something bigger.

TASK 3: 20 BULLET BENEFITS

TASK 6: 7 PROMO EMAILS (WITH CTA + PS)

Email 1 — Pain + Callout

Subject: Need extra money this week?

Do you have stuff in your house you'd sell today if you knew it would actually turn into money?

Because most people do... they just don't have a simple way to turn "random household items" into cash without headaches.

And if you've tried the usual route, you already know what happens: you post... nothing happens... then you're told to post more.

That's why Living Room Side Hustle exists. It's a straightforward system for turning what you already own into extra money without building a following or setting up tech.

Grab it here: [AFFILIATE LINK]

PS — If you can make a small pile of items on a table, you can do this.

Email 2 — The “Posting Into The Void” Angle

Subject: Stop posting for nothing

“Post every day.”

“Be consistent.”

“Keep grinding.”

Cool... but what if you need money now?

That’s the problem with most online income advice: it asks you to work for free for weeks (sometimes months) before you see a dollar.

Living Room Side Hustle takes a different route: start with what you already own and follow a simple selling routine that doesn’t depend on follower counts.

Details here: [AFFILIATE LINK]

PS — You don’t need a brand. You need a plan.

Email 4 — Story Email (Relatable)

Subject: You might have cash at home

At some point, most of us look at a closet or a shelf and think:

“I should sell this.”

Then we don’t... because we remember the hassle:
random messages, lowball offers, meetups, ghosting, and wasted time.

That’s why I like Living Room Side Hustle. It’s built to keep things simple:
pick items, set up a basic selling corner, use a script, ship with a routine, repeat when you want.

If you’ve been sitting on “I should sell this,” here’s your nudge:

PS — It's not about having fancy stuff. It's about starting.

Email 5 — Objections (Not techy / not salesy / no time)

Subject: Not salesy? Perfect.

Common worries I hear:

“I’m not salesy.”

Good. You’ll use a simple script that keeps it natural.

“I’m not techy.”

You don’t need a tech stack. Phone + basic steps.

“I don’t have time.”

This is built around short sessions and a simple weekly rhythm.

If any of those have been holding you back, this is worth a look:

PS — If you can follow a checklist, you can follow this.

Email 6 — FAQ Style

Subject: What to sell tonight

Quick FAQs:

Do I need a big audience?

No. The system is built so you can start without followers.

Do I need expensive items?

No. Most people start with normal household items.

Do I need to do this every day?

No. You'll follow a repeatable rhythm you can run when you want.
