

A Memorable Christmas

I went to Japan with my family last Christmas. We were very excited. First, we took photos on Mountain Fuji with poses. We were very happy!

Then we went to Tokyo Disneyland. Once we arrived, we went on one of the rides. It was quite terrifying, but we still at least got a free coupon to the Japanese restaurant which gave a seventy-five percent discount to the bills.

After that, we went to a very popular restaurant to try the sushi and sashimi since we were very hungry. Some staff were Japanese and some of them were speaking English! We could tell them our order! I tried the sashimi. It was really tasty and fresh. Unfortunately, my sister did not eat anything because she was not hungry at all. I also tried the green tea, and it had a slightly sweet flavour.

Finally, when we went to pay the bill, 'Oh no! I don't have enough money!' said my dad. Then I remembered the free coupon and gave it to Dad. We had enough to pay. Thank goodness! I learnt to stay calm.
