Name: [City] Data Engineers

Description:
[City] Data Engineers is a group of professional data engineers who are passionate about technology and are looking to grow and advance our careers in the field. Our community is focused on providing a space for like-minded individuals to engage in meaningful discussions with industry experts and advance our skills with practical knowledge from real-world scenarios.

Whether you are looking to expand your skillset, network with fellow professionals, or simply stay up-to-date with the latest developments and trends in the industry, our community is here to support you every step of the way. We believe in the power of collaboration and are committed to creating a supportive and inclusive environment where everyone can thrive.
