Are you undead, or alive?:

It's Ambiguous (what is 'alive', really?)(-1p) 9

How did you become a vampire?:

Force Of Will (i... don't want to talk about it— it's probably better if people don't know what i did)(-2p) 7

What do you feed on?:

Breath (primary)(it's like literally taking their breath away; the prey feels like they're holding their breath for the duration, so it'll cause unconsciousness after a few minutes, and death after a few more; but it induces a kind of lethargy, like one would get from bad air— this is my primary method of feeding, so it dictates the mechanism for feeding (mouth to mouth), even when i'm not taking their breath, and only using another method alone— this method of feeding is the only one that actually quenches my thirst, with the other two serving other functions instead)(+1p) 8

Energy (secondary)(when taking my prey's energy, it feels to them as though they are running/fighting for their lives; their adrenaline immediately begins pumping, they start sweating up a storm, their fight-flight-freeze reaction goes off, and even if they are entirely stationary, they feel as though they couldn't be more physically active if they tried— when used in conjunction with taking their breath, this causes almost immediate unconsciousness; but when used alone this relies on my prey's stamina for extreme physical activity— this method of feeding is the one i use for healing myself, though i can use it even if i am not in need of healing)(free)

Youth (secondary)(in this case, my prey will find themselves aging by about a year for every minute of sustained feeding; though i'll only gain a twelfth of that time (a month, for every year i take); and given that it takes several weeks for the body to replace itself, there won't be any real outwardly facing tells of this, until long after i've taken what i may, even if i take it all— their own healing will slow down comparably for what i take (stopping entirely if i take it all), their immune system will fall apart (to varying extents), their mind will slip such that they lose track of time (but it won't be that bad, if i don't take too much), and their muscles and fat stores will deteriorate— i'll be able to steal at most about ten years for myself from a child (equaling about a maximum lifespan of a hundred and thirty five years), but this won't see them growing up, it will simply carve that time off of the end of their life, such that they die very young indeed, from 'the complications of aging'; that is to say, illness or injury that their body can no longer fix)(-2p) 6

How do you feed?:

Normal Mouth (no matter the method i use, i will feed through kissing my prey, or at least holding their open mouth against my own; and if their mouth is not open (or they attempt to hold their breath, to resist my taking it), it will restrict the flow of breath/energy/youth, and slow my feeding to about a quarter the normal rate)(+1p) 7

X-x—

When are you active?:

Whenever Convenient (i can be awake forever, or i can sleep forever, or anything in between; the sun doesn't bother me (beyond it being a very bright light which i cannot look directly at, without being temporarily blinded), and neither does the moon)(-1p) 6

What special powers do you have?:

Pleasurable Bite (permanent)(it is deeply (if sometimes debatably) enjoyable to be my prey; but in a variety of different ways— giving me their breath is a very submissive feeling, almost objectifying; like they exist only to produce sustenance for me; and it leaves them feeling well used, which could be good or bad, depending on the person— losing their energy is exhilarating, deeply satisfying, and almost fun; it's like going on an adventure, winning a race, or reaching a goal they've been striving for; and it leaves them content in their exhaustion, and with a feeling of achievement, when i'm done— while the loss of their youth feels almost comforting in a soul deep way; it's a warm and fuzzy feeling akin to being loved and cherished, and feels a bit like they're safe at home, in bed with the love of their life; and at the end of that road they may be sad it was over so soon, and scared of what may come next, but they'll feel like they lived a good life, full of meaning, and that they made a difference before the end— no matter the method by which i drain them dry, assuming they're conscious for it, they'll feel like they can die happy from there)(-1p) 5

Feed To Heal (permanent)(in taking my prey's energy, i will gain supernaturally accelerated healing— not just healing faster, but also recovering from poison or illness, and repairing damage that wouldn't usually heal)(-1p) 4

Can Digest Human Food (permanent)(though i didn't give up my ability to eat normal food— and in fact, i don't need to eat any of the things i'm now capable enough of feeding on... well, i guess except for youth, as i'll eventually otherwise die of old age... or will i? idk, it's kind of hard to tell, when i'm not really alive or dead)(-1p) 3

Mind Control (at will)(repeatedly feeding on a single target will make them develop an addiction to being my prey, and the weaker willed will become a bit obsessed and obedient— i've even created a cult out of a few of them, but it wasn't really on purpose— still, it's the stockholm syndrome kind of mind control... they could probably get therapy, and break out of it, but they don't want to, and i don't particularly want them to, either)(-1p) 2

Learning Non-Vampiric Magic (at will)(...though i can still also learn regular magic; well, as much as anyone can)(-1p) 1

What are your weaknesses?:

Greedy Feeding (it's not that i couldn't resist it if i really needed too, given that i don't actually have to feed; but it feels really good, both for me and my prey; and i've got a dozen or so regular cultists who love to invite me out to parties— i haven't killed anyone yet (except for that one suicidal girl i tested the youth theft out on, but she signed a waiver and everything!), but i drain half a dozen people to unconsciousness just about every time we go out, and they love it, so what's the harm, really?)(+1p) 2

Picky Eater (i can only feed on females; though both their physical sex and mental gender count; idk why, but i guess i just don't discriminate against trans people ٩(̄̄)̸)(+1p) 3

Horny (i have no refractory period, unending sexual stamina, and the sex drive of a hormonal teenager... might have something to do with the nearly perpetual supernatural recovery, and having accidentally deaged myself into my late teens, but i guess we'll see if it goes away with time)(+1p) 4

Slow Feeding (it takes a few minutes for me to drain someone to the point of exhaustion, taking solely of their breath (fittingly, it depends on how long they can hold their breath)— only around a minute to exhaust my prey by siphoning their energy and breath; with is taking much longer if i only take their energy (being based around their stamina for sustained extreme physical activity, both while holding their breath, and breathing normally)— and a bit over an hour to age them to the point of death, assuming that they started in their 20's (they lose about a year for every minute of sustained feeling, but it takes a few weeks for their new age to become outwardly apparent, and i only get a month of that year))(+1p) 5

Can't Feed On Someone If Bribed Not To (well... it's less of a hard line rule, and more evidence that i keep to my word, if you can get me to give it ~~when i'm not under duress (but i'm not gonna tell you that)~~; so, if i say that i won't feed on someone, in exchange for some service or good, i mean it ~~(there isn't actually anything stopping me, but for that i gave my word)~~)(+1p) 6

What are you repelled by?:

Bright Lights (it's blinding, but only for a moment...)(+2p) 8

Loud Noises (...very inconveniencing, these things...)(+2p) 10

Strong Smells (...but my goal was immortality, so while they suck, i'll be fine— it's almost like having discount keen senses)(+2p) 12

What happens if you don't feed frequently?:

Nothing (i still get hungry/thirsty, but i don't actually have to feed if i can live with the desire, and resist the urge to feel the awesomeness of feeding)(-5p) 7

How else can you be killed?:

No Way (see, this is what i mean by not being able to tell the difference between the living and the dead; my bodily functions can be stopped, but they can also be restarted, and even something like nuclear fire would only moderately inconvenience me, until i used some of my reserve energy to heal from it... how much reserve energy do i have?... well, wouldn't you like to know.)(-5p) 2

Bonus:

Humble Aspirations (-2p / +1b) 0;1

Vampire Groupies (anyone i feed on experiences pleasures so good as to shatter their mind; being hypnotized into developing an all consuming love for me. to the point of happily submitting to more such fun, as i take their breath and/or energy and/or youth; as well as actively assisting me in gathering more prey to share the 'burden'. for while misery shared is divided, pleasure shared is multiplied)(-1b) 0;0
