

There's absolutely nothing I can do
To destroy this regret you've put me through
It's all just leaving me jaded
All of the years I've wasted

Broken apart
You tore me asunder
Control my heart
Cast me aside
I'm your work of art but
Now I wonder
Why it's me in the first place?

Now I'm no longer the girl
Transfixed on a promise
Dependent no more on your lies
A shot taken
Oath broken
White dress stained by the red lights

I'm switching channels again
Again
Caught between a truth and a lie
I don't know whether or not I'm really fine
I've been compromised
I don't know how to press rewind
Take me back

So that's how the story goes
Rewritten and dolled up, recomposed
So that's how the tale spins
See all the trouble I've got myself in
A pact with a devil
No wait, he was more like a demon
Act out a show
With desires so "human"

Again, again
Caught between a truth and a lie
I don't know whether or not I'm really fine
I've been compromised
I don't know how to press rewind
Take me back

The prelude and the interlude
Mix up in my head leaving me confused
I never wanna be you
Because I'm not as petty to be
You'll see

Switching channels again
Again
Caught between a truth and a lie
I don't know whether or not I'm really fine
I've been compromised
I don't know how to press rewind
Take me back
