ENTRANCE

"You can't say shit, you little pale bastard
And fuck all y'all, suck my di-i-i-ick"

At that moment, Kelly Haste bursts out onto the stage as the sounds of a guitar being played continues in the background. She stands out on the stage with a smirk on her face as the crowd boos her, but she doesn't care.

She holds her arms out wide, a smile on her face as her theme music continues to play. She lowers her arms and begins to walk down the ramp as the chorus begins to play.

"So stay away
We've been down this road before
Been barely holding on for so long"

She continues down the ramp way, ignoring any and all that try and get a rise out of her as they shout obscenities in her direction. She then slides underneath the ropes and begins to walk around the ring before going towards one of the corners, holding her arms out wide as her music begins to fade, and she hops off of the ropes and sits in the corner, waiting for the match to begin.
