

Why I must be elected as Prime Minister of Australia

Did you know that only one in five Australian Prime Ministers take action on any public concerns? Good morning ladies and gentlemen. My name is Srimaan and I am running for the role of Prime Minister. There are numerous reasons why I make the best Prime Minister of Australia. These include environmental concerns such as pollution increasing in animal habitats significantly over the years. If you want a Prime Minister who values their citizens, vote for me as Prime Minister!

Primarily, I have noticed that the most important environmental concern is plastic pollution. Many previous Prime Ministers have ignored this issue that resulted in a depletion of marine life and an increase in marine waste. If elected, I will not only solve my problems. I will solve your problems. I will solve animals' problems. To embrace a perfect future, vote for Srimaan as your newest Prime Minister!

Moreover, Prime Ministers nowadays like to believe that the role of Prime Minister is the same as that of a dictator. I, on the other hand, believe that being a Prime Minister not only means carrying the weight of responsibility, but embracing change and preparing ourselves for the future. I promise to defend everyone that is in poverty. Everyone that has an issue. Everyone that is troubled. I will make a difference to Australia if elected.

Another compelling reason is that I have witnessed homeless or poor people not being accepted. When I was younger, I saw a homeless person begging on their knees for some food. Most people just put up a disgusting face and left that person starved. If I am the Prime Minister, I will provide food daily to those who are struggling to find a livelihood. Vote Srimaan for Prime Minister if you want the 'poverty' to no longer be a thing.

Ultimately, if chosen as Prime Minister, I will be the leader who stands up for the 'poor', ensures equality for everyone, and addresses environmental concerns. I promise everyone that I will be the Prime Minister you look up to. Vote for Srimaan for a better Australia!
