

My hippocampus will never forget about you.

Maslow forgot to add you to my Hierarchy of Needs.

Don't be a-Freud of love!

Let's form a secure attachment.

Are you Broca's aphasia? Because you leave me speechless.

We go together like an axon and a myelin sheath.

How do I love thee? Let me operationally define the ways.

Researchers tested my love and found it statistically significant.

Is that your sympathetic nervous system or do I get your heart racing?

Pavlov doesn't need to condition my reaction to you!

My PET scan would light up for you.

Are you dopamine? Because you make me happy.

Your love is the only positive reinforcement I need.

The only choice my frontal lobe will make is you.

Are you an endorphin? Because you make me feel better.

If I'm Phineas Gage, you're a railroad spike, because you've changed me forever.
