

Thoughts and Suggestions

Overall

- Suggestion: Allow for more independent cities. Aside from Manhattan, I could easily see similar things happening with, say, Baltimore and Pensacola.

1814

- Thought: POD is simple and effective. Keep this and expand upon it.
- Suggestion: Maybe some British troops set fire to New York City, too? Perhaps to one of the major ports? It wasn't part of the official strategy.
 - Thought: Building off that notion, what exactly are Prince George's views on the matter? He's only regent right now, but he's effectively in charge since George III is, uh, currently flip-noggin, flap-doodle insane.

Furthermore, perhaps the aversion of Princess Charlotte of Wales's death might be a nice change?

- Suggestion: Just have Britain take Michigan's Lower Peninsula, and maybe a bit of Ohio and Indiana along the coasts and the border with the LP. Let the US keep the Upper Peninsula, perhaps as the State of Superior (or something) down the line.
