第50至53題為題組

If there is one thing that tennis star Rafael Nadal loves, it is challenges. This is one of the main factors that have led him to become one of the most successful champions in the history of the sport. One of these challenges has been playing tennis with his left hand despite being naturally right-handed. In fact, one of his claims to fame is being among the greatest left-handed players of all time, which is especially impressive since the field includes other tennis legends such as Rod Laver, Jimmy Connors, and John McEnroe.

Another challenge has been playing in a period that has included some of the best players of all time. Even though he has regularly competed with tennis greats such as Roger Federer and Novak Djokovic, Nadal has won a record 22 major singles tournaments in his career. And he has achieved this feat despite suffering a number of major injuries over the years.

Nadal also does things off the court to help people. For example, he started the "Nadal Educational Tennis School" in India in 2010, and the "Rafa Nadal Academy" on his home island of Mallorca in 2016. Perhaps the next global tennis star will come out of these organizations in the coming years.

There are a number of strategies that you can use to keep procrastination at bay. One is to use a calendar, which can enable you to stay organized by planning out the things that you need to get done. If you make an effort to plan things out ahead of schedule, it can help you get rid of procrastination. And if an emergency occurs, you will have extra time to get things done.

Another effective method is to divide big projects into smaller pieces. A task like "do the housework" may seem overwhelming since you may not know where to start. But if you focus on more specific tasks like “do the laundry” or “do the dishes,” you’ll likely find them far more manageable.

It’s also important to forgive yourself when things don’t go as planned. If you get caught up in being perfect, you may find it hard to complete the tasks that you set out to finish. Finally, it can be helpful to reward yourself when you complete a project. This can give you something to look forward to while you are working hard. Like many bad habits, procrastinating can be managed by realizing the effect it’s having on you and making efforts to stop it.

54. () What is the purpose of this passage?
