Alert

After smashing a sick piñata

- "I've broken open a precious little piñata. Easy come, easy go, heh heh heh..."

P Factor

Introduction

- "Oh my, oh my, fresh candy! Now, which of these have I not seen before? Even I get sick of hypochondriac Piñatas tempting me over and over again."

Thinking

- "Before I became a professional dastardly deeds doer I dreamt of breeding show-winning Piñatas myself, but my career advisor said I didn't have the right temperament for it..."
- "Bright eyes, vibrant colouring and a jaunty posture. Just some of the traits of a healthy piñata. I'll soon whup that out of them..."

Neutral vote

- "Hmm. Have I seen this Piñata before? I think I remember that gaunt complexion, but it's too average to really know for sure."
- "Feeling a little off colour are we? You'd better tuck yourself up with a hot Lemmoning drink."

Bad vote

- "Cripes! Here, take this sick note. I'll gladly leave this Piñata alone - it's so ugly!"
- "Hello, anyone there? I don't think this contestants with us anymore."

Good vote

- "The next time this Piñata is due some sick leave, I'll be sure to pay them a visit so they don't get lonely..."
- "Wow, what a specimen! This Piñata is in the peak of health."

Minigame menu

- "My Vulchurro will be circling for sweet prizes. Heh heh!" (Note: in the US release, Dastardos instead says "the candy prizes" instead of "sweet prizes")

Leafos Log

(Will organise this bit later)

"Oh dear, your garden is full of piñata. If you want to romance piñata and hatch an egg, you'll need to reduce the garden population."

"Hey there, you are growing a plant that's being stunted. This can lead to part or all of the plant not growing at all. To avoid this you should remove the blockage as soon as possible, and in future plant your seeds away from objects that could cause this problem again."

"What's this? A Beggar! He must have heard about your ever increasing garden value. You should deal with immediately."

"Let me introduce Dastardos. He loves smashing open sick piñata and stealing their sweets. He's very difficult to stop, if only you could make the piñata well, then he wouldn't try to get their sweets."

"Oh dear, one of your Piñatas has been trampled! Naturally, this will make them unhappy."

"There's a fight. Even good - natured piñata sometimes find a neighbour they just can't get along with. Fights are trouble, because one side always ends up getting hurt."

"One of your plants is too dry. When plants haven't got enough water, they change to a brown colour. If you water them, they will recover. If you leave them without water too long, they will die."

"Careful now! One of your plants is being over-watered. When plants have too much water they change to a blue colour. If you stop watering them they will recover, but if you water them too much, they will die. So keep an eye on them."

"A sour piñata is ready to change! The sour has gone into a cocoon where it will change into it's tame form."

"You've unlocked a new chapter in the storybook! You can read it in the Journal."

"A piñata has broken open. When piñata lose their sweets like this they return to the wild - outside the garden. It's part of life here on Piñata Island. You can't become a GREAT gardener, without breaking a few piñatas."

"Next time you put the cursor over a piñata you'll notice the happy meter. The happy meter tells you about your piñata's mood. Every time something happens to the piñata the triangles turn orange or turn blue. The ore orange triangles a piñata has the happier it is, and you can see this on the face in the middle."

"Now Costalot's is open you can buy romance sweets. If you have romanced a piñata species before, you can replace all their requirements (except their house) with a romance sweet. Buy a sweet and direct a piñata to it. They should eat it and instantly they will have a heart appear over their head to show they are ready to romance. This should make romancing piñatas easier. Remember that both piñatas will need a sweet."

"The village General Store is now open. Remember those chocolate coins you collected the other day? Now you can spend them at the store. When you get back to your garden press X to open the main menu and select the village option. Then you can choose to visit any store or service that is open for business."

"A hunt has started! The piñata food chain means that sometimes the bigger, cute and papery piñatas feed on the smaller, cute and papery piñatas. You may be able to stop a hunter by dousing it with water, whacking it with your shovel, or keeping it away from it's dinner by building a good strong fence."

"Your gardening is improving! Well done! You just seem to get better and better."

"Let me introduce Seedos. He's obsessed with gathering seeds. You should try talking to him."

"You've levelled up! You filled the petals around the clock which means you've taken a step closer to becoming a truly great gardener. All kinds of things happen when you become a better gardener, new shops open, new items appear in the shops, new piñatas will want to visit, new characters appear and Seedos will have new seeds in his pouch."

"Here are the experience petals. Can you see them around the clock? When you do something to help the garden the petals will turn blue. If you'd like some more information about the experience petals press Y or look in the Journal. Now let's see how many experience points you have gained from your work so far."

"Here is your clock. From now on you can see what time it is in the garden. Some gardeners use their clock to predict which wild piñata will show up."

"You seem to have most of the basics now so see what you can do with the rest of the day before the sun goes down. (I'd suggest you try to romance enough whirlms to earn your first Master Romancer award!)"

"The next time you put the cursor over a plant you'll notice the water meter. It shows how much water a plant has. You can use the water meter to make sure conditions are perfect for the plant to grow."

"Well done, you've planted your seed but you'll need to water it to help it grow. Without water the plant will turn yellowy-brown and die. If your plant starts turning blue you're giving it too much water, which can also kill it. Go back to the garden by pressing A then press X to find your 'new' watering can."

A baby piñata is ready to grow up! The baby goes into a cocoon where it grows to it's adult size. When it has grown it will hatch out as a young adult. If you get impatient you can give the cocoon some 'encouragement' with your shovel."

You've got two sparrowmint residents now. That's good work. The next stage is to get them to Romance. Open the menu and look in the Journal or you can put the cursor on a sparrowmint and press Y for information.

The 'Current Status' tab shows you what you need to do next."

"Every time a new piñata is hatched in your garden, your label is fixed to it. You can change your label by using the Label Designer from the Main Menu. Press A to close this Alert, bring up the menu with X and then select the Label Designer icon."

"Now that you have provided the whirlms with everything they need, the hearts above their head show they are ready to romance. To begin put your cursor over any whirlm."

"Did you see the colour change? The whirlm has become a RESIDENT! It likes your garden so much it's going to stay here. Try naming your new resident. Just close this alert with A, put away any tool you have open and place the cursor over your whirlm."

"Take this GRASS SEED PACKET as a reward for getting your first visiting Whirlm piñata. It never runs out of seeds! Press A to close this alert then press X for the menu. Choose your new grass seed packet from there."

"You've uncovered some coins. When you put the cursor near chocolate coins, you will automatically pick them up. You can spend them later - we have things to do before the shop opens."

"Alerts will wait down here for you to look at them. If something is very important, the alert will open automatically. If you have more than one alert you can choose with one to open by moving the cursor over alerts with the left stick. When you've finished with the alert bar press up on the D-pad to put the cursor back into the garden."

"Since you've just started here, why don't you see if you can help Langston out. He'll point you in the right direction until you find your feet." (TiP only)

"Because you've become a Master Romancer or tamed a sour, you've unlocked an extra design in the tag editor." (TiP only)

"A Wildcard is a very special Piñata, but two together is an amazing event!" (TiP only?)

"A new Piñata has been spotted in the Piñarctic." (TiP only)

"Hi, I'm Leafos and I'm going to help you get started. Look for this:(ANNOYING TARGET SYMBOL FROM TIP). It can show up anywhere, but it always tries to tell you where to go and what to do next." (TiP only)

"Hello there! Welcome to Just for Fun mode! This is where you go to do whatever you want in a special garden where everything's open for you to play with. The only goal is to enjoy yourself, so go ahead and have fun!" (TiP only)
If you need a little help getting started, head over to Langston in the village by pressing X. I hear he has some important helpful advice to kick start your garden!" (TiP only)

Whacked

- "If you try to hit me once more I shall teach you a lesson!"
- "That's it! I warned you - let's see how you get on without your shovel for a while!" (Classic only)
- "Don't you ever learn? Hit me once more, and just watch what I do this time!" (TiP only)

- "Right! I warned you - have this peice of junk instead of your lovely shovel!" (TiP only)

Watered

- "I decide when I need a wash. If you can't control that watering can I shall take it from you."
- "I like a joke as much as the next girl, but this isn't funny! I'm taking the watering can back for a while!"

Alerts

- "The Swanana will be pleased that you have rescued it. Professor Pester will be extremely angry. I think you can count this as a good days work." (TiP only)
- "Your shovel has been returned. I think you've had enough. You can now select the shovel from the menu again. Let's put this behind us."
- "Your watering can has been returned. I've let you have your watering can back - you can now select it again from the menu. Don't drench me again, or else!"

P Factor

Introduction

- "Hello there. After all the time I spent drawing and writing about Piñatas for the journal, I have the fondest memories of my first scribbles of those common little Piñatas."

Thinking

- "I love all types of Piñatas really. This is going to be a hard choice for me..."
- "What a great turnout! There is plenty of potential in this lot..."

Neutral vote

- "I'm sorry, you only just missed out by the smallest amount. You are all winners inside, just not in this competition!"
- "Just pipped to the post. Maybe next time you will come out on top!"

Bad vote

- "In every competition, there has to be a winner and a, how should I put this gently... L. O. S. E. R."

Good vote

- "Now, won't you look at this little fella! Who says you can't impress with the little guys?"

- "Wonderful! This is definitely my favourite confectionary carrier out of this line up."

Other

Minigame menu

- "Take my advice, and don't even try to beat me!"

Egg delivery

- "Your piñatas have made an egg! After piñatas have done the romance dance, a new baby piñata is brought to the garden, safely packed in a patterned egg."
- "Worry no more your new egg has been delivered safely. Another successful mission for Storkos, the people's Champion!"

Pinata hatching

- "See how your garden population increases? A baby piñata had hatched from an egg to join your piñata ranks."

No house

- "Oh no! This egg was due to be delivered to that house! You better provide somewhere else for me to deliver it to, or else I'll take it home and make myself a nice omelet!"
- "Sometimes even the forces for good are thwarted. I cannot deliver an egg if there isn't a house for it to go to. I'll take this egg back to the Egg Cave, put some bread under the grill and settle down for a scrambled supper." (Note: In the text, they missed the word to in "house for it to")

P Factor

Introduction

- "My ability to fly came from an experiment where I tried to teleport myself to the other Piñata Island regions through a series of matter transportation pods I had devised. Little did I know a Taffly got into another of the pods..."

Thinking

- "Buzzzt. Cough! Oh sorry, I meant 'which of these lovely Piñatas should I choose?'"

- "How am I going to 'sortie' the winner out of this lot."

Neutral vote

- "A little work on aerodynamics might help this Piñata streak into the lead. A Juno Helmet accessory might do the trick?"
- "Unfortunately, this Piñata isn't quite the high flyer as the winner. Maybe some Kameo Wings might help it up a rung or two?"

Bad vote

- "This little Piñata doesn't quite reach the heady heights of victory. More likely to be left in the hangar I dare say!"
- "This Piñata is more of a Wright Brothers aeroplane than a fighter jet methinks..."

Good vote

- "Well blow me down if this Piñata doesn't lift me up. My spirits that is. Lift up my spirits? Oh, never mind..."
- "Soaring into the victory spot goes this divine example of a Piñata. Come on let me see ya shake yo tail feather!"

Other

Minigame menu

- "I'm not the People's Champion for nothing, you know!"

Seedos (complete)

Talk

Introduction

- "Hello, I'm Seedos. Take a seed. And don't hit me with your spade."

Advice

- "I collect lots of different seeds in my pack, but bad seeds go into my red pouch."
- "If you tuck a seed in a hole, it makes it happy."
- "The bad seeds plant themselves quickly. They're tricky ones."
- "Sometimes Piñatas prefer eating seeds to the plant they grow!"

Other

- "When my mask gets broken I fix it with flour and water paste."
- "Seedos has a family but they aren't as reliable as seeds."
- "All the seeds are mine, but I'm kind so other people can borrow them."
- "Seeds are a gardeners best friend, and I am the seeds' best friend."
- "My seeds say that I shouldn't talk to you."

- "If I were a little seedy, the soil would give me all I needy, my water, warmth and feedy, yes indeedy!"
- "I don't think you want to talk to me, you just want one of my seeds."
- "There is nothing more valuable than a seed."
- "I've heard that you can eat some seeds. I would have to be very hungry before I'd touch even one of my collection. "
- "If you like seeds smile... I don't think you're trying hard enough. "
- "I can't choose a favourite seed, they are all special to me."
- "I had a dream where all the shovels broke and I slept on a bed made of lots of seeds."
- "Did you know the coconut is a seed? My head is almost as hard as a coconut!"
- "Seeds are very important, or there would be no plants and then the piñatas wouldn't have anything to eat."
- "You have to be a very special person to look after seeds."
- "I'll swap you a seed for ten chocolate coins... Ha Ha, I'm just tricking you!"
- "I can identify every kind of seed, with my eyes closed, just by touching them with my nose"

Whacked

First hit

- "Ouch! When you hit me seeds fall out of my pack and my mask breaks. I have to stay out of the garden until I have fixed it. If you take my seeds by hitting me I'm going to get some angry weed seeds and throw them in your garden. You'll soon find out why you should treat the seeds and me with respect!"

Other

- "There's nothing you can do to make me give up my seeds!" (TiP only?)
- "I can run very fast. You can't hit me more than five times!"
- "When you hit me you make the seeds angry. Angry seeds will punish you!"
- "You're stirring up a seed storm! I'm warning you!"
- "If you are bad to me I'll put bad seeds in your garden!"
- "You're a bully and seeds never like bullies!"
- "I won't forget this, the seeds and I will teach you a lesson!"
- "You must like weed seeds in your garden, because that's what you're going to get!"
- "As soon as I mend my mask you are in serious seedy trouble!" (TiP only?)

P Factor

Introduction

- "Hello. I'm Seedos. I've travelled far and wide looking for new types of seeds, but I wonder if any of these Piñatas have travelled even further than me?"

Thinking

- "Maybe comparing Piñatas is just like comparing seeds? First I'll check their coat, then their density..."
- "My mind is made up! But then maybe... Oh no! I appear to have sown the seeds of doubt within myself!"

Neutral vote

- "I see a fair number of pinometers travelled on this Piñata's little round feet. But what is this? A squashed seed between the nonexistent toes? Nooooo!"
- "A couple more pinometers on the clock and this Piñata will be run in enough to win."

Bad vote

- "A dormant Piñata is as bad as a dormant seed in my book!"
- "A couch potato such as this Piñata just does not have the right attributes for me I'm afraid. Maybe if I collected dust and not seeds things may have been different."

Good vote

- "You have raised a winning Piñata here. Do you mind if I ask what type of seed you got this one out of?"
- "The hardened cardboard features suggest that this contestant has traversed many a pinometer in its life. Not much of a compliment you say? How does being the winner compensate!?"

Other

Minigame menu

- "I'm ex-seed-ingly good at all forms of competition!"

- "Now you are a Master Gardener you are an important person on Piñata Island. Make sure you behave like one."
- "You have a no-nonsense technique and enough expertise to be called a Professional Gardener."

Shovel upgrade

- "At last you have a shovel worthy of a real gardener. There isn't much you can't do with this now! See the jagged edge on this shovel? That's so you can cut down any tree that you don't need anymore."
- "I'm going to give you a helping hand. I like the way you keep trying even though you don't have the natural talent that I did. Your shovel is even stronger now. I hope you've learned how to use it properly, or you could end up breaking something important."
- "Well done, you've reached the stage I got to on my third day in the garden. This makes your shovel stronger, so you should be able to deal with some of the more awkward things in your garden."
- "Alright, now we can start for real. I never needed help when I used to run this garden. This shovel gives you the ability to dig deep holes, deep enough for water to gather in."

Tower of sour

- "Congratulations! You have been awarded the first peice of the Tower of Sour! You won this award for turning a sour pest into one of your residents. The Tower of Sour has many pieces and you will receive a new piece every time you turn a new sour pest into a resident. You may turn these pieces off and on by putting the cursor on the Tower and pressing A to use it." (TiP only)
- "What an amazing artefact. Few people ever see a sour Limeoceros Tower piece, let alone add one to their Tower of Sour!" (TiP only)
- "This carving of a sour Lemmoning has the power to prevent them from just wandering into the garden." (TiP only)
- "The Crowla piece of your Tower of Sour is ready to protect your garden from any more sour Crowla visits."
- "Let's add the Profitamole piece to the Tower of Sour, and we can make sure that you won't be bothered by sour Profitamoles again."

- "I see you've caught a sand critter - might be just the right time to give you this sand packet. It works just like the grass packets (and you can find it in the same place on the menu), so it should be no problem for you to use." (TiP only)

While it's performing, tap it with the Trick Stick to teach it the trick. Now you won't need to waste any more daisy seeds." (TiP only)
- "Want to try your hand at hard landscaping, eh? Here's a tip: Hold down the X button, and you can adjust the size of the affected area by moving the Left Stick left and right. If you dig a larger area, you will get a deeper pond - perfect for all those water-loving Piñatas!" (TiP only)

"I like what your doing with the place. Now, about that money..."
"A few coins would let me buy a backpack that doesn't smell so much, at least."
"You're very generous indeed. I just want you to know that thanks to your coins and goodwill, things will be different the next time we meet. For now, please accept a Beggar's thanks, and his final farewell."
"Good day to you! It warms my heart to see this place rising from the ashes. On the other hand, I myself seem to have fallen on some rather hard times. I hate to ask, but... Could you spare a few coins to help me get back on my feet?"

"At last, another chump! Er... I mean, greetings friend! I'm Ivor Bargain, you may remember me from such numerous games as, erm, Viva Piñata One!
Unfortunately I've had a bit of a mishap recently, which has resulted in me becoming trapped down this well. You don't need to know all the details, but let's just say I've made a few enemies around these parts... Anyway, there are lots of bits and pieces down here, but it's too dark for me to see what they are. If you were to throw me down some of your chocolate coins, then i'll gladly chuck some of this stuff back out for you. Be generous though, I need to save up for a really big ladder... Oh, and mind me bucket!"

"I've tried and I've tried, but I can't get out of the garden. I really need to go now - can you help me find the way?"

"Hi there gardener, need a Weedling? I know I'm small and cute, but I know how to make any weed disappear. Oh do please think about it. I'll just be in here drinking milk, but not eating the cookies - I'm sweet enough already."

P Factor

"La de dah de dah de dah..."

"Yay. I love parties! All us little Weedlings like to play dress up too. Maybe some of these Piñatas could play with us? But only the smallest ones though, otherwise the clothes wouldn't fit!"

"Nearly wearily! I might play with you, but you look just a little too big to skip along with me."

"When I choose my favouritest anything, I close my eyes and spin around and around. So here goes..."

"ZOMG!1! LOLzOr @ nOOB COnTe3T4nt!11!. Oh sorry. I thought I was posting in the Piñata Community Forums!"

"Ooh yay! This Piñata is small enough to fit in one of my PomPom dresses and everything! We could skip together, and pull up weeds and skip some more. Wouldn't it be fun?"

TiP Opening Cutscene

-Now that we're inside Piñata Central, we can use simple hacking techniques to steal the Piñata files-

-Soon I will know the location and weaknesses of every Pinata on the island!-

-Hurry up, you incompetent code monkey, I have Piñata to capture!-

-Pinata Central is out of action until the records are restored. And in the meantime, I'll make sure those papery pinheads never reach the Cannoñata!-

Ruffian Intro

- "Oh no! A Ruffian is on the way. They are experts in spiteful, destructive behaviour. Find a way to get rid of him quickly before you regret it."

Pester Intro

- "I am Professor Pester, and I'm here to educate you. You will learn how to make me happy or your sappy little garden will suffer. Ha ha ha! I'm sure you've already met my other pupils, the Ruffians. Well now you are lucky enough to meet the real deal! ME! The incredible Professor Pester, ha ha ha!"

Blocked Piñata

- "Look at how I prevent essential Piñatas from ever reaching the garden. My genius knows no bounds. Victory is mine!" (TiP only)

Introduction

- "Well well, what- do we have here? Lovingly cared for Piñatas paraded before me! I'll be sure to note the most valuable and make devious and dastardly plots to procure them for my... bashing stick! Bwaa ha ha ha!"

Thinking

- "Oh my! These piñatas certainly get my ponderation juices flowing..."
- "Now which sickly sweet-filled candy carrier would like to meet Mr. Piñata Stick the most, hmm?"

Neutral Vote

- "This Piñata's value just falls under the break-even mark..."

Bad Vote

"Ooh, ooh, I like that one the bestest! No, that one! No, that one! Can I choose them all?"

"Yay! You win! Do you want to be my bestest friend and we can play Flutter Hop Scotch!? Then we can dress up as Fluttercotch, then we can eat flowers, then we can..."

"What an entertainer! Such a display of fantastic conjurations deserves first place."

"Whilst certainly entertaining, this competitor just didn't have the big finale to tie up the competition."

"Hmm. Maybe if this Piñata's diet were a little more colourful, it may improve their chance of winning?"

"Fetch me my candy-tinted glasses. I need a closer look at this one."

"Right. Colour swatches - check; spectrophotometer - check; nine-part harmonic triangle of Geothe - check. I'm ready!"

"After I had been ejected from Piñata Central by Langston, I thought my Piñata critiquing days were over. But I return! One step at a time Jeffe..."

"Judge these piñatas? I didn't judge that rascal Langston correctly, so what makes you think the one I choose won't trick me out of this job too?"

"Watch that waistline, little Piñata. Any more candy and that rogue Langston will fire you to kingdom come in his incredible Canñoñata!"

"This Piñata may be starved of candy, but let it now gorge on the adulation and praise of a deserved winner!"

"Just look at this glutton! Look!!"

"This Piñata is shaping up quite nicely for a win, but make sure it doesn't become corpulent with candy!"

"Ah! A Piñata that could be my own kin. Not only does it display the trademark delirious glass-eyed glare, but also a dislike for candy! Splendid."

"If this Piñata were to shed some of its materialistic burden, I would look on it a little more favourably."

"It is no trifling matter choosing the winner."

"This modest Piñata may be worth less than the others, but it is flush with good looks and charm."

"Lukewarm acceptance is more bewildering than outright rejection. Don't you think?"

"The pressure is on to choose correctly and without bias, keep cool Sparcticus, keep cool..."

"This Piñata needs to cool it's expectations of winning."
