

Cold_Brew_Coffee is at Rockaway Beach in New York City holding a beach campaign party and rally. The crowd is huge, about 200 strong, the DJ is playing the top trendy toons that all the kids these days enjoy, and Cold is showing off his ripped six pack at the beach

“Howdy partners, as they say over in the western part of our state, you all know me, I am a Congressman, I am a Socialist, and goddamned I am here to stump for my party. Now, this state is in good hands, your governor knows what she is doing. She made this state safer by disarming the police, and now she needs a good socialist assembly to accomplish more.”

“Now, here we are at this nice beach, what are we thinking of? I am thinking about in the future this beach is either going to be too polluted to go to or how this entire city is going to be under water. We need good progressive leadership to counteract the regressive right and their science denial. We need good leadership that will take quick action to curbstomp climate change! We need decisive action now!”

“In Dixie, I am currently proposing a carbon tax plan that will make sure that oil companies pay what is due. They have polluted us for so long, and it is time for them to pay! Here in Atlantic, this is not the land of oil, however, this state is still powered on coal which is even dirtier than oil. If we want to be able to lay out on the beach in the future, we must convert our power grid to renewable energy; a carbon tax is a good first step for that.”

“Secondly, if we want to stop climate change, we must stop driving gas guzzling cars. Here in New York, you all have the single most robust subway system on the continent. However, a new subway line hasn’t been built in decades. This city needs to complete the 2nd Avenue subway, it needs to extend lines further into outer Queens, it needs a connection to, dare I speak the name, Staten Island, and it needs a new cross town route which would also connect Queens to the Bronx.”

“Now, these things are expensive, how is my party going to pay for this? Well, we are going to put a new price on any automobile that seeks to travel across Manhattan. Consider it a throughway price, license plate scanners will be set up at each and every tunnel and bridge that enters the island, and if that car leaves the Island on the other side, it will be charged an expensive fee. So, if you drive from Jersey City to say Long Island City, you will be charged. This coupled with other new taxes and federal assistance should be enough to finally get the subway expanded.”

“Now, my friends if you want this to happen, you are going to have to vote. You need to vote for my party, the governor’s party, the Socialists to deliver these exciting programs. Since we are in New York, I think you all already know who I am going to tell you all to vote for, please go to the polls and vote for /u/PGF3. He is the man that can deliver true socialist goals. He knows his stuff, and he can deliver. Go out there folks and vote! We need you in this election. Now let’s get back to this party.”

The crowd erupts into cheers. The DJ starts playing some Big Freedia and the crowd grooves
